CELEBS STEP OUT THIS WEEK - WHAT DO THE OK!

Best DRESS

ALEXA CHUNG

ERDEM

Ali: 'This statement frock suits Alexa's signature style - it's loose-fitting, colourful and quirky. While I understand choosing a subtle shoe so you don't detract from the dress, I am not a fan of this choice at all!'

ROSIE HUNTINGTON-WHITELEY

ANTHONY VACCARELLO

Laura: 'In a word, Rosie is flawless. From her bee-stung pout to those perfect pins, she looks stunning in this edgy LBD. Simple heels and statement earrings top off her look.'

LOOK OF THE WEEK!

KATE BOSWORTH

ANGEL SANCHEZ

Ali: 'The antique gold is divine. So sophisticated it exudes class. Love the sleeve and hem length while the simplicity of the black accessories is a winner. Great hair and lip colour, too.'

BRIGHT PINK LIPS

It's all about a bold pink pout – and we love it!

EMMA STONE

She really can do no wrong in the fashion and beauty stakes right now. This pop of pink works perfectly with Emma's porcelain skintone and even suits her rich red hair. Nailed it, girl.

JESSICA CHASTAIN

Again, you would think pink would clash with red hair, but this hue complements her locks and blue eyes beautifully. A feminine flick of liner balances the look without taking over.

REESE WITHERSPOON

Reese is looking so young and fresh right now. Cementing her stylish status is her fringe and fun lip colour here, paired nicely with sexy smoky eyes and pretty blush.

RITA ORA

ZUHAIR MURAD

Laura: 'This is a new look for Taylor. The colour and style are more edgy than usual and that eye make-up and sleek hair suits it perfectly. I would have liked to see her in a more delicate heel.'

SARAH HYLAND

This sleek pony is made even more perfect by Sarah's heavy, winged eyeliner and vibrant lip. Strong brows anchor her eyes and bronzed skin keeps it sophisticated.

Miranda's FAMILY FEUD

THE KERRS ARE AT WAR – AGAIN – WITH THE MODEL TELLING
MUM TO 'BUTT OUT'

The dust has only just settled on the last Kerr family bust-up, but another revealing TV interview has fired up the feud again.

In February 2014, Miranda's mum, Therese, claimed the family hadn't seen Miranda's son, Flynn, in over a year. The model brushed aside the parental protests, claiming that 'they weren't really trying to do anything, they're just a little naïve'.

Nowadays, 49-year-old Therese is determined to prove there's no drama. 'Miranda and I are so close. We are like the best of friends, it's so wonderful,' she gushed on Channel 7's The Daily Edition on February 25.

PARTY NO-SHOW

Miranda was noticeably absent from her brother Matthew's engagement party in Sydney's leafy Blackburn Park on January 17.

'Fun times at the best engagement party ever,' wrote Therese on Insty. A dig at a missing Miranda, perhaps?

'No matter how old my daughter gets, she'll always be my baby girl,' writes Therese love and hate are beasts and the one that grows is the one you feed.

YOU ARE AMAZING!

GO GET 'EM GIRL

SOMETIMES THE STRONGEST WOMEN ARE THE ONES WHO LOVE BEYOND ALL FAULTS, CRY BEHIND CLOSED DOORS, AND FIGHTS BATTLES THAT NOBODY KNOWS ABOUT.

MIXED MESSAGES

Therese often shares deep and meaningful messages with her 15,900 Instagram fans. Yet despite the often warm and supportive mantras that seem to be directed at her daughter - 'Love this,' she commented on her 'Go get 'em girl' post - all too often Therese's social media posts hint at family disharmony.

at her US base, where she has homes in New York and LA. Miranda has made no comment publicly about her mum's 'butt out' revelations, but they can hardly have been welcomed.

'A nice person is a "yes" person, whereas a good person is a person who accepts their responsibility in things and moves forward... and isn't afraid to say no or challenge someone or be honest or truthful,' Miranda has said pointedly.

Despite the dramas, Miranda still insists she's a family girl at heart. 'What makes you happy are real relationships and the moments you share with loved ones,' she reveals. 'For me, family is life.'

Here's hoping the Kerrs work it out. ●

ORLANDO'S BACK FOR MOORE

THE COUPLE HAVE BEEN SPOTTED TOGETHER ONCE AGAIN

FEBRUARY 19

Is it just a coincidence that Demi was there at the same time?

Nice try, Orlando! We know it's you under there

Adding fuel to dating rumours, Miranda's ex-hubby, Orlando Bloom, 38, has been spied on a second outing with 52-year-old Demi Moore, despite trying to stay incognito as he arrived at an office block on February 19 - just as Demi was leaving. It comes after their cosy embrace on January 27 in LA with Demi's daughter Tallulah, 21.

While Orlando's recent Oscars night catch-up with ex-wife Miranda set tongues wagging, pals reveal he's actually interested in Demi, after being introduced to the actress by mutual pal Jennifer Aniston.

'The thing Demi loves the most about Orlando is how positive he is. His uplifting influence is just what she feels she needs,' a friend says. 'At this stage, it's a casual thing, nothing serious and it's not yet exclusive. But they've enjoyed several low-key dates together and the potential is definitely there for something steadier.'

celebrated his engagement to partner James Wright, 36, she was absent - both in person and in offering congratulations online. Therese meanwhile captioned a Miranda-free family snap taken at the parkside party, 'Gorgeous times with loved ones.'

Despite a rift-healing trip to Australia last May in which Miranda reconnected with her family, the Gunnedah girl has since remained

STARTING AGAIN

A year after their wedding in 2009, big-hearted Lamar took his wife to the Beverly Hills property where they tied the knot to renew their vows. With their divorce dismissed, could another vow renewal be on the cards?

'How romantic is that?!' gushed Khloé of the couple's 2010 renewal

Khloé & Lamar

THE DIVOR

AFTER MONTHS OF SECRET HOOK-UPS, KHLOÉ AND LAMAR GET READY

Their doomed love story was one of the most shocking and heartbreaking tales to emerge from Hollywood in recent years, but 447 days after Khloé Kardashian filed to divorce

Lamar Odom, the couple still haven't finalised their legal separation.

And now, in a shock twist, it appears the duo will not be divorcing after all! Before Christmas, a family friend revealed that Khloé's divorce lawyer, Laura Wasser, had suggested she formally enter a default judgment of divorce. 'If nothing is done, in the next 45 days, it will be dismissed by the judge,' the pal revealed.

Considering Khloé's 45-day deadline came and went in early February, all signs point to the couple reuniting in the near future.

It certainly comes as no surprise that Khloé would be re-evaluating her future. Severely shaken after her near fatal car accident last month, the 30-year-old star admitted it was 'really scary' when she accidentally drove off the road during a family ski trip in Montana.

While there have been whispers that the

SECRET RENDEZVOUS

She instagrammed a bouquet of flowers on March 1, but is Lamar her mystery admirer? While Khloé is said to be moving with caution, the pair have reportedly been meeting up for secret romps at a hotel near Khloé's home in Calabasas. 'They're taking things extremely slow,' a pal says. 'They know each other like a book and there's no need to rush anything. Khloé's always [erred] on the side of caution and she's been hurt. When she's ready, everyone will know.'

Khloé kept us all guessing with this cryptic, caption-less pic!

divorce delay was due to money wrangling, friends admit that Khloé is in fact terrified of losing Lamar forever if she pulls the final plug on their marriage.

'It's clearly because she wants to keep him close. She feels like she will never hear from Lamar again if she divorces him,' a friend says.

Adding further weight to the reconciliation rumours, those close to the couple reveal that Khloé and Lamar have been secretly meeting each other at the Hilton Garden Inn in Calabasas over the last three months. 'They've spent many nights together,' a pal says. While another friend adds that the notoriously guarded reality star is trying to keep things on the down-low. 'Khloé doesn't want her family or the public knowing that she's still trying to work things out with Lamar.'

It's hardly surprising, considering how deeply Khloé was affected by Lamar's alleged infidelities and drug issues – which included reports he'd been using crack cocaine and prescription drugs. But despite his many failings, it has always been clear she struggled to let him go. 'If I had my way I would still be married to Lamar,' she sadly told her mum Kris Jenner last year, adding, 'I wish I was still married to him.'

Now it looks like her prayers may finally have been answered. As well as technically remaining married to her beloved Lamar, Khloé would have been pleased to see the 35-year-old finally looking happy ➔

ON THE RIGHT TRACK

Friends close to Lamar say the basketballer is doing everything he can to win his wife back. He's made his health a priority, emerging for a hike in LA on February 25, and has been sending Khloé gifts and hand-written love notes.

CE IS OFF!

TO TAKE THEIR REUNION PUBLIC!

“ IF I HAD MY WAY, I WOULD STILL BE MARRIED TO LAMAR

and healthy again recently. Indeed, Lamar seemed like his old self when he was seen out hiking in LA on February 25. It's the first public outing in five months for the basketball player, who's reportedly been sober since August.

'Lamar is so sorry for everything and is begging Khloé to take him back,' adds the pal, who says he is 'determined to prove that he's a changed man.'

'Focus on the light,' KoKo posted to Instagram recently. 'The darkness will fade when we start to pay more attention to the bright light ahead of us.'

It certainly explains why Khloé's on-off romance with French Montana seems to have hit a stalemate. The pair have cooled off again after their recent Valentine's Day hook-up, with friends revealing Lamar doesn't see the 30-year-old rapper as 'any type of threat'.

And with all signs pointing to a Lam and KoKo reunion, another dream may finally be realised for the beautiful reality star! Admitting she expected to be a mum by now, Khloé adds, 'I hope and pray I have kids when the time is right.' Here's hoping that time is now! ●

'My fitness journey will be a life-long journey,' says Khloé

KHLOÉ: I WAS OVERWEIGHT

It's taken two years to get there, but Khloé is looking fitter than ever before! 'Hi baby abs!! I see you!!!' she joked on Instagram. 'I hope to meet your other ab friends soon (yes I'm talking to my muscles. I've never met most of them before).'

Dismissing airbrush claims, the star insists her toned tummy is 100 per cent real. 'Looking back at pictures of myself I didn't realise at the time how unhealthy my lifestyle actually was,' says the star, who grew used to being called the 'fat' one. These days, exercise is a 'huge part' of Khloé's life. 'My work-outs are not all about vanity,' she adds. 'They are about clarity for my mind and soul.'

KHLOÉ TO REPLACE KELLY O?

Her family has just signed a hefty $100 million contract, ensuring Keeping Up with the Kardashians will run for at least four more years. But rumours are swirling that Khloé may be distancing herself from the brand, amid reports she's scored another hot deal on fellow E! series Fashion Police.

Producers are searching for a new replacement, following the shock departure of Kelly Osbourne, after she took offence at comments made by fellow host Giuliana Rancic. So far, Khloé and Real Housewives of Atlanta star NeNe Leakes have been tipped as the most likely candidates. Khloé has already moonlighted as a host for E!'s Oscars and Grammys coverage, suggesting they may be grooming her for the role. It might be just what she needs, with tensions building between Khloé and Kris, after she accused the 59-year-old mumager of letting her down last year. 'My mum does not protect me ever and it's so frustrating,' she snapped on Keeping Up with the Kardashians. 'One day, I'm going to get someone new to run my shit... As your daughter and friend, you let me down, and now as your client.' Ouch.

NO LONGER KEEPING UP

It seems Khloé isn't the only Kardashian looking to leave the fold. Kim is said to be livid at her mum for signing the $100 million deal without her consent, and is yet to agree to it. 'She thinks reality TV may not be for her anymore,' an insider says.

Will Sofia Vergara and Joe Manganiello make the most picture-perfect bride and groom in celebrity history? We might have to wait a little bit longer to find out, with the couple admitting they've had to delay wedding plans thanks to Joe's work commitments. But they have spilled some secrets about their big day!

'We wanted to get married this summer, but Joe will be busy working and promoting Magic Mike 2,' admits Sofia, 42, adding, 'The wedding will probably be later this year.'

While the couple are on the same page about the date, friends admit their wedding styles don't match up. 'She wants a huge wedding jam-packed with all the A-list stars she knows,' says the pal, adding that Joe 'would elope if she agreed. He's just not into that whole big wedding circus and would much prefer if it was just the two of them.'

THREE TIMES THE BRIDE?

In 1991, Sofia married her high school sweetheart Joe Gonzalez, before they split amicably two years later.

Then there was her on-screen wedding to Jay (Ed O'Neill)!

'We want to get married at a time when we can get away and make time for a honeymoon,' Sofia says

GUEST LIST

Considering their long list of industry pals, this will be one star-studded affair! Sofia and Joe are super-close to their Modern Family, True Blood and Magic Mike co-stars, not to mention their real families.

THE WEDDING PLANNER

They bonded on the set of their upcoming flick Hot Pursuit, with Reese Witherspoon calling Sofia her 'work wife'. And now it looks like Reese is set to be a wedding planner for her BFF's upcoming nuptials! 'I gotta help, I've gotta be there for my girl! So I'm excited,' Reese smiles.

But family-oriented Sofia - who is mother to 22-year-old Manolo from a past marriage - is determined that her nearest and dearest will be part of their celebrations. 'There's no way she'd marry without her family there, especially her son,' the pal says.

'It's going to be big,' Sofia confirms. 'We started off with 20 [on the guest list], and now there's like pages and pages.' And don't expect a subdued affair for this outspoken Latina! 'Oh my God, it's gonna be insane,' Sofia laughs. 'We have to plan a lot.'

Luckily, the Modern Family actress has her A-list pal Reese Witherspoon on hand to help! 'We've already talked about the wedding, we have a lot of plans,' Reese, 38, confides.

Whatever the couple decide upon, they certainly appear set for a solid future. Sofia describes Joe, 38, as her 'love and best friend,' and is committed to the idea of a bright future together. 'I believe in love,' the actress smiles. 'I believe in being happy.'

THE LOCATION

Joe is keen to elope, and he's been trying to persuade Sofia that Vegas is the place to say 'I do'. Friends reveal Joe wants to book the Planet Hollywood chapel and a penthouse suite. While Sofia is keen for a big bash, a quickie wedding could happen - if Sam Smith sings her down the aisle! 'Sofia said just because it's Vegas doesn't mean it can't be beautiful!'

THE WEDDING DIET

'#Istartdietmonday,' Sofia instagrammed of her pre-wedding slimdown following her engagement. Since then she's been eating plenty of fish, salads and muesli with fruit and Açaí.

THE DATE

Expect a northern hemisphere autumn wedding at the earliest for this genetically blessed pair. While they remain tight-lipped on the exact date, it seems Joe's penchant for dropping his pants is what's delaying the big day! 'I would love to get married this summer,' Joe gushes, 'but I'm going to be too busy promoting my male stripper movie!'

George Clooney DOUBLE

PLAYBOY OR PRES?

George may count President Obama as one of his closest friends and have been a UN Messenger for Peace, but he's a seasoned playboy, too. 'I absolutely know how to have a good time,' he admits.

WHITEHOUSE
BACKGROUND
CHECK!

It's no secret that silver fox George Clooney harbours serious political ambitions. 'The simple truth is that everyone has an opinion and everyone has the right to voice it and they should if they want to,' says George, 53.

The star, who played a presidential wannabe in political thriller The Ides of March, has long been a supporter of US President Barack Obama, as well as being politically active on humanitarian issues in Sudan, Darfur and Haiti.

'He has big ambitions and aims to get into politics imminently,' a pal reveals. 'He wants to do more humanitarian work and hopes to join the Democrats' 2016 campaign.'

In fact, even George's own family have voiced the actor's ambitions. 'George will run for office now, especially after his marriage to Amal, as that will open so many doors for him,' his aunt Starla Clooney told UK newspaper Daily Mail. 'Being married will make George look more grounded and less of a playboy.'

But while George's political ambitions received a very attractive boost when he married Amal Alamuddin last year, shocking private life details have emerged which could scupper his presidential plans for good.

It's an even money bet on what George likes better – alcohol or sex, spills one mole, while alleged ex-lover Kim Weiant has come forward claiming, 'George and I would drink all night doing shots of Jägermeister mixed with beer and vodka. George loved drinking more than he liked being with me sexually.'

George himself has previously made light of the fact that his background is less than pristine. 'I've slept with too many women, done too many drugs and been to too many parties,' admits George. 'That was college for me: drugs and chasing girls.'

'I couldn't be more proud to be your husband,' gushed George of his accomplished wife at the Golden Globes. But we're guessing human rights lawyer Amal, 37, won't be happy about the scandal engulfing her husband.

His numerous brushes with the law don't help either. In 2005, he was questioned by police about his friendship with a strip club owner. George was also listed as a witness during the 2011 trial of former Italian Prime Minister Silvio Berlusconi, after a partygoer claimed George had attended one of the ex PM's notorious orgies – a claim George denied. In 2012, George was also arrested for his part in a protest about getting humanitarian aid into Sudan, which he admits was 'humiliating'.

This gossip and George's colourful past could crush his political hopes permanently. 'The public George Clooney glosses over the reality,' dishes a mole. 'He's a lot more complicated in real life.' ●

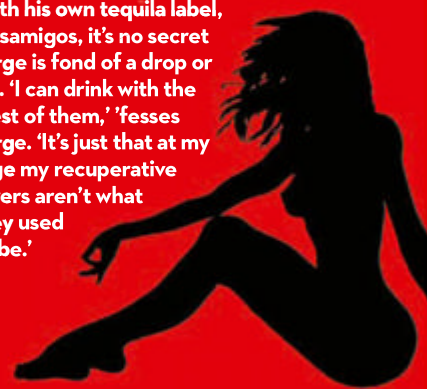

INFIDELITY

Ex-porn star Ginger Lynn Allen, who claims she enjoyed a six-month fling with George, dished on the actor's infidelity with first wife Talia Balsam. 'George told me that he was divorced,' Ginger says. 'It never crossed my mind he would cheat.'

BOOZE

With his own tequila label, Casamigos, it's no secret George is fond of a drop or two. 'I can drink with the best of them,' 'fesses George. 'It's just that at my age my recuperative powers aren't what they used to be.'

STRIPPERS

Back in his ER days, George frequented 4Play, a notorious LA strip club. 'He was throwing around $100 bill tips like they were quarters,' dishes a dancer.

Plenty of Brandi Glanville is always a good thing when it comes to The Real Housewives of Beverly Hills, but the tension on set has become so palpable that producers are considering giving the mouthy mum the boot! 'No-one is really happy with Brandi on the show right now, including Brandi,' an on-set source reveals.

It was the 42-year-old's wild antics that originally saw executives signing her up, but even producer Andy Cohen has hit his Brandi limit. 'He thinks her actions aren't a good look for the show,' an insider says.

And it's not all one-way traffic – the

When pushed to comment on her final decision about continuing with the franchise, Brandi was unwilling to confirm either way! 'I have not been fired from RHOBH (yet) & I have not quit RHOBH (yet) focusing on new projects with my friend @LeezaGibbons shhhhh,' she tweeted on February 26.

Ryan says he's noticed a 'pervading sort of sadness' in daughter Ava

Ryan admits AVA AND I HAVE DEPRESSION

Ryan Phillippe is synonymous with numerous classic late '90s flicks like Cruel Intentions and I Know What You Did Last Summer. However, it seems that while filming these pre-millennial classics, the actor was battling emotional demons which plagued him for as long as he can remember.

'Depression has been a huge obstacle for me ever since I was a child. As you get older I think it decreases some, but I'm just innately kind of a sad person,' the former teen heart-throb explains. 'I'm empathetic, and I take on the feelings of others and transpose myself into the position of others.'

Despite this, Ryan says he wouldn't change anything. 'If it was a choice between being this way or being completely ignorant, I'd prefer to suffer through the sadness than to be a complete moron with no feelings,' he candidly reveals.

The 40-year-old ex-husband of Reese Witherspoon, 38, also admits he has noticed the trait in his eldest child with Reese, 15-year-old Ava.

'I see it in my daughter. She has it, and I wish to hell she didn't. It's just, some people do have this pervading sort of sadness, or they're so analytical that they can kind of take the fun out of things because they think too much.'

ISLA FISHER READY TO POP!

Aussie actress Isla Fisher is said to be eight months along in her third pregnancy to hubby Sacha Baron Cohen, but photos of the Wedding Crashers star hiking in LA on March 1 suggest she is ready to pop any day now! The mother of Olive, seven, and Elula, four, is keeping up her fitness regime right up until the final weeks of her pregnancy, but she reveals she has suffered with bad morning sickness. 'I mostly ate supersize bowls of white pasta with loads of butter and cheese because that was the only thing that took away the nausea,' the 39-year-old shares.

BEYONCÉ VS KID ROCK

Pamela Anderson's ex Kid Rock, 44, has gone after the untouchable Queen Bey. 'Beyoncé, to me, doesn't have a f---ing Purple Rain, but she's the biggest thing on earth,' he says. And he's not keen on her looks either. 'People are like, "Beyoncé's hot." I'm like, "I like skinny white chicks with big tits." His words didn't sit well with the 33-year-old's fans, who flooded his Instagram with pictures of bees. His response? A photo of bug spray. Oh, it's on...

PARENTS WEIGH IN

Never shy of a fight, Kel's mum Sharon weighed in, tweeting, '@KellyOsbourne, I am so proud of you. You can never be bought. You always wear your heart on your sleeve.' But rocker dad Ozzy was less polite, calling radio host Billy Bush a 'bitch' after Billy commented on Kelly's tweets about Giuliana's controversial comments. 'Kelly threw her under the bus, in my opinion,' Billy said.

FASHION POLICE AT WAR!

Mud slung, stars quitting and sordid secrets unveiled - after a week of jaw-dropping drama for E!'s Fashion Police, could the show be about to crumble? First up, host Giuliana Rancic came under fire after poking fun at singer Zendaya Coleman's dreadlocks on the Oscars red carpet. Despite filming a heartfelt televised apology, she didn't escape the wrath of co-host Kelly Osbourne, 30, who ranted on Twitter, 'I'M SERIOUSLY QUESTIONING STAYING ON THE SHOW!', before quitting just days later! But was it really her decision to leave? A Hollywood mole says, 'We are told she was given the option to quit or be fired.'

There was also talk that the joke may not have originated with Giuliana, 40, at all - but one of the show's other writers. The writers were quick to respond, claiming they only ever scripted gags for the late Joan Rivers! 'When I was writing for the show, the only writers on staff wrote for Joan,' former staffer Eliza Skinner told Radar Online, while another adds, 'Nothing was off limits for her. She was offensive, racist, and rude, you name it. There wasn't a line Joan wouldn't cross in comedy.'

Outspoken Joan would have certainly responded to the claims, but her replacement Kathy Griffin, 54, remained eerily silent while the drama unfolded, which did her no favours. Friends of Joan soon stepped in to talk about the 'icky factor' that taints the show. 'Kathy Griffin - talented, able - made a grab for the job while Joan was on life support,' says gossip columnist Cindy Adams, adding, 'I should know, I was there in the hospital room.'

With a replacement for Kelly still up in the air and Giuliana's husband Bill urging her to move back to Chicago, could Fashion Police be over for good? Sadly, it appears even the fans aren't on board with the current show. 'They can keep Brad Goreski and fire the rest,' one commented.

ZENDAYA RESPONDS

She may only be 18, but Zendaya isn't afraid to stand up for herself. The singer took to Instagram to brand Giuliana's joke 'outrageously offensive', before responding to her apology: 'Giuliana, I appreciate your apology and I'm glad it was a learning experience for you and the network.'

Taylor Kinney's ex: 'HE CHEATED WITH GAGA!'

Sporting a huge heart-shaped sparkler, Lady Gaga is on cloud nine following her engagement to 33-year-old actor Taylor Kinney. 'I'm such a happy bride-to-be! I can't stop smiling,' she wrote on Insty.

But fans are worried that Gaga's man may not be all that he seems. Taylor's ex-girlfriend, Brittany Sackett, has blasted him for being a two-timer who cheated on her with the 28-year-old pop star!

'It wasn't fair to me, his lack of honesty,' says the 30-year-old real estate agent, who fell in love with Taylor after they became neighbours in 2010.

'He would give sweet gifts that were really meaningful and thoughtful, like engraved necklaces with inside jokes on them,' Brittany says. 'We'd both say we loved each other all the time and we used to talk about marriage.'

Taylor met Gaga when he appeared in her 2011 music video You and I, but Brittany says she only discovered the truth when he accidentally 'butt-dialled' her one night.

'I could tell it was an intimate conversation, I could hear kissing, muffled sounds and I recognised Lady Gaga's voice,' she explains. 'I knew something was going on. It wasn't right.'

Brittany later confronted one of Taylor's friends. 'He said to me, "You know what's going on with Taylor and Lady Gaga right?"' she reveals. 'I met with Taylor and he said he was really sorry but I didn't want to hear any of his excuses.'

HE

'I never saw it coming,' says Brittany. 'I felt betrayed.'

STEPHEN MOYER: I'M AN ALCOHOLIC

Speaking recently at the CLARE Foundation, a nonprofit treatment facility, True Blood star Stephen Moyer, 45, opened up about his alcohol addiction.

'There's this rush that happens from doing our job, this whirring buzz, and you want to continue that buzz,' he admits, revealing he admitted himself into a UK facility 14 years ago.

Stephen says that when he and wife Anna Paquin, 32, head out for dinner, staff know not to offer alcohol. 'The Diet Coke, which is the Patron Saint of drinks for alcoholics, gets put before me before anyone even asks what we're drinking.'

Kylie admits: I'M HUSBAND HUNTING!

After keeping quiet about her relationships for years, pop princess Kylie Minogue has opened up about her desire to find the man of her dreams.

'I would love to find love,' says the Aussie darling, who hopes that a family is on the cards as well. 'At this point in my life, I feel like I actually want the whole thing. If the heavens are looking down on me, maybe - maybe, it will come my way. Come on St Valentine, throw me a bone!'

The 46-year-old singer has previously dated the late Michael Hutchence, Olivier Martinez and Andrés Velencoso, and has recently quit both the UK and Australian versions of The Voice. Could her hunt for love be taking over for now?

Jen & Liam's SECRET DATE NIGHT!

Jennifer Lawrence came under fire this week after whispers of an on-set fight with director David O. Russell began to circulate. Though Jen, 24, took to Facebook to deny the drama, there was one man she immediately ran to - her Hunger Games co-star Liam Hemsworth!

Jen met up with Liam, 25, for a secret date at Locanda Verde last Saturday night in NYC. And friends reveal that their friendship is closer than ever!

'It's no coincidence that Jen's turned to Liam right after the stress she had at work. Liam's the one she always calls, texts and tries to meet when the chips are down, and that speaks for itself. She absolutely adores him and they've become extremely close friends who connect with each other most days,' a pal tells OK!.

'He's been lifting her spirits during the tough times she's had lately, not just romantically, but the whole [photo] hacking scandal too,' the pal adds.

'Right now she's still casually involved with Chris [Martin], but it seems only a matter of time before she and Liam realise they're perfect together and give things a shot,' the pal says. 'Whenever it happens, it won't be a moment too soon!'

JESSICA'S LONELY PREGNANCY

Living in Justin's SHADOW

SHE'S GETTING READY TO BE A MUM... BUT WHERE'S HER HUSBAND?

Despite expecting her first child next month, Jessica Biel cut a solitary figure on the set of her new movie in New Orleans. Looking downcast at times, the mum-to-be kept her mind on the job as she shot scenes with her The Devil and the Deep Blue Sea castmate Jason Sudeikis, 39.

It should be one of the happiest of times for Jessica and her husband of two years, Justin Timberlake, but the 32-year-old actress has spent the final few weeks of her pregnancy working constantly on the film, and staying at a local hotel in New Orleans.

'She spends very long days on set,' reveals an onlooker, adding that the brunette beauty is keeping things low-key. 'Jessica is not receiving any special treatments. [She] has a very plain car with a driver and besides that walks with everyone else.'

However, one person who's noticeably missing is 34-year-old Justin. Jessica followed him halfway around the world for his Australia and New Zealand shows last year, but friends say, until recently, there have been 'no signs of Justin' on the set of her movie.

It's a less than ideal turn of events for Jess, who always knew she 'definitely' wanted to become a mum. 'Every woman has some kind of intuition of how they'd interact with a child,' Jess says.

So where's Justin? It seems he's been everywhere but by Jess's side. After taking care of business in LA last month, he crossed the country to New York, where he caught up with Jimmy Fallon for the 40th anniversary of Saturday Night Live.

Friends say Justin has promised to be there for the birth – but that's the one time Jess doesn't want him around. 'Justin keeps telling her he thinks she'll look beautiful and he just wants to support her,' a friend says. 'Jess is insisting that she'd rather have a close friend be there to hold her hand.'

Of course, Jess will be even busier once her bub arrives.

Along with feedings and nappy changes, she'll be hard at work at her new kids' restaurant Au Fudge, which is set to open in LA 'soon'.

Despite his partying reputation, Justin's grandmother, Sadie Bomar, believes he'll make an excellent dad. 'Justin has wanted to have children all his life,' she admits. With his 20/20 Experience World Tour over, friends are hoping that now may finally be his chance to prove it! ●

'His' bday gift

Taking to Insty on his birthday on January 31, Justin cropped out Jess's face when he confirmed the pair were expecting their first baby together.

On 'his' tour

'Life moves pretty fast. If you don't stop and look around once in a while, you could miss it,' Justin wrote from NZ. But does he practise what he preaches?

Partying solo

JT partied up a storm at Taylor Swift's star-studded 25th birthday party in December – but Jess was nowhere to be seen.

Funnyman Jason has been a great comfort in JT's absence

An insider says Jess 'is on set from 6am to sun down every day'

RELYING ON FRIENDS

With Justin barely around, Jessica has turned to others for advice, including her 'great friend' and co-star Jason, who welcomed his first child, son Otis, with wife Olivia Wilde in April last year.

Instead of taking it easy before the birth, Jess is also producing the film. 'She is very involved in the production process,' the onlooker reveals

Speech diss

Following Jess's heartfelt speech at Justin's 30th birthday party, he yelled, 'Yeah bitches!'

All about him!

Upstaging the bride on her wedding day is a big no-no! 'This is classic Timberlake,' on fan commented. 'The bride is pushed to the side and the groom makes himself the star.'

Kyle hints a secret addiction may be responsible for his weight issues: 'I've got a problem with milk. I guzzle milk by the litre'

THE SHOCK JOCK PUTS HIS HEALTH ON THE LINE TO IMPRESS HIS GIRLFRIEND

'I'm not sitting around making scones – I'm living the young life,' Kyle Sandilands reveals of his time with 24-year-old model girlfriend Imogen Anthony. And while the couple's fast-paced life – including trips to Dubai, Fiji and LA – is clearly keeping them close, Kyle admits it's Imogen who sets the pace! 'I'm the handbrake in this relationship... she's the accelerator for sure,' he says.

One example of Imogen cranking up the gears in their relationship is her need to party until the early hours. While Kyle has long cried he is booze-free when out, he has been drinking more since dating the model. 'I was blind... I don't drink normally,' Kyle says of a recent party he attended.

The radio host admitted he stayed out to the early hours with his lady. 'We ended up leaving at 8.30 in the morning,' he says.

Kyle is quick to point out that it's his girlfriend's crew who have this influence on him. 'It's Imogen's friends, you can't control them,' he says, recounting details of her recent birthday party to illustrate their wild ways. 'It got pretty loose on the boat; people having sex on the boat,' he says.

But while he's clearly enjoying his party lifestyle, the fast pace has certainly had an impact on the 43-year-old's health.

The crazy ride came to a sharp halt earlier this year when Kyle was rushed to hospital fearing the worst. 'I think I've had a stroke,' was the chilling message he wrote to his KIIS FM co-host Jackie O.

Luckily for Kyle, it wasn't as serious as a stroke, but when professionals advised him to wear a breathing mask at night, he refused in the name of vanity. 'It's very unromantic-looking, and my girlfriend is a 23-year-old hot model,' he said at the time.

Kyle is well aware he isn't the healthiest man around, and has already picked out his casket! 'I've told my friends I want to be like one

KEEPING UP

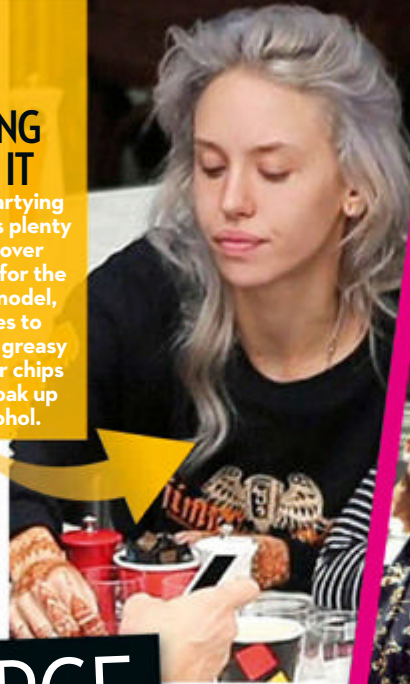

PAYING FOR IT

All that partying also means plenty of hungover mornings for the slender model, who likes to indulge in greasy burgers or chips to help soak up the alcohol.

CONSTANT PARTYING

A camera crew filmed the antics at Imogen's 24th birthday party last month. The video - now on YouTube - shows her friends boozing on a private coach before boarding a yacht for more drinking and dancing.

HER MOB SQUAD

Besides her main man Kyle, Imogen is often seen out with her crew, which consists of a DJ and a photographer to capture her every movement.

LIVING LARGE

EXPENSIVE TASTE

While in Dubai, Imogen showed Kyle the canary diamond she'd like if he pops the question. 'That's the most expensive one!' he told her, with Imogen simply replying, 'I know.'

GEN-Y SELFIE HABIT

Far from camera-shy, the model loves to show off her fashion finds and slender frame to her fans.

I SEE A LOT OF MY YOUNGER SELF IN IMOGEN of those bikies that get buried in the gold coffin,' he laughs.

While some may worry, Kyle says Imogen is the woman for him. 'She takes no shit,' he explains. 'I see a lot of my younger self in her.

She doesn't give a f--- about anything. That's what I admire; I find that quite sexy.'

Imogen herself constantly receives flack for the snaps she posts to Instagram, flaunting her luxurious lifestyle of parties, dancing and dining out. But she insists, 'We don't care what people think... if you don't have love, you don't know love.'

And Kyle is just as open about telling the world how important his ladylove is to him. 'Imogen is the love of my life, 100 per cent,' says the radio star, who was previously married to singer Tamara Jaber from 2008 to 2010.

The model isn't in this relationship for the short-term either. When asked what she wants to be doing in five years' time, Imogen reveals; 'On an island on the other side of the world, with my man, smoking blunts, draped in chains, and toasting to the sunset.'

Marriage and babies are also on the cards. 'We both know we probably will,' Kyle says.

On the prospect of becoming a dad, the shock jock admits he's been scared to bring up the idea of children in the past. 'No-one has ever said that [they want children] to me,' Kyle reveals. But with Imogen saying she's open to the idea, there may be some mini-Kyles on the way! 'Now that she's said that, I know where she's at,' he says. ●

Katie's LIFE REBOOT

SHE'S GOT A HOT NEW LOOK AND A REVAMPED CAREER!

THEN

SEXY MAKEOVER

Katie's been hitting up New York Fashion Week and showcasing her stylish new look, but admits she has help. 'I leave my fate to the professionals,' Katie says. 'We try to have fun with the looks and take risks.'

Katie favoured more casual threads when she was living in New York

Looking every inch the Hollywood screen siren, Katie Holmes sent jaws dropping to the floor as she swept into New York Fashion Week on February 16. Removing her stylish red coat to reveal a sexy black dress underneath, the 36-year-old stunner couldn't resist a little smile as she took her place in the front row alongside Rihanna and Mary J Blige at Zac Posen's show. 'Omg I'm hypnotized,' one fan commented, while another added, 'Wow, smouldering hot!'

It certainly appears that almost three years after her split with ex-husband Tom Cruise, Katie has finally got her mojo back! 'I feel very happy,' she confesses. 'And I am excited for the projects that are coming up.'

However, it hasn't always been this way. Having fled the bright lights of Hollywood for New York in 2012, Katie set up home with her eight-year-old daughter, Suri. With many hoped-for acting roles eluding her, the move also left her feeling isolated. 'She doesn't have a lot of close friends and when she isn't working on a project, she spends a lot of time by herself,' one confidante revealed.

But Katie's recent move back to Los Angeles has seen a big transformation in the brunette beauty already! 'She's finally rebuilding her life after the fallout from Tom,' her friend explains.

Late last year, Katie splashed out $5 million on a swanky new Calabasas home in the same gated community where Kourtney and Khloé Kardashian live. And other big changes are also underway. 'Katie's priority is Suri,' another friend adds. 'But Suri can't be her whole world.'

The actress has booked roles in the edgy TV crime drama Ray Donovan and the new comedy flick Taxonomy, and will return as Jackie Kennedy in a second season of TV miniseries The Kennedys – which she will also produce and direct one episode of. She's also set to make her film directorial debut with the drama All We Had, which is based on the book of the same name by Annie Weatherwax.

'I just worked with [director] Simon Curtis, on Woman in Gold with Helen Mirren. She's a British actress,' Katie jokes slyly. 'She's very good. You'll be seeing a lot of her, but you heard it from me first.'

“ I FEEL VERY HAPPY. I AM EXCITED FOR THE PROJECTS THAT ARE COMING UP

With her career heating up once more, family and friends are beginning to recognise the Katie of old. 'She used to love palling around on set with actors and crew members,' one pal says.

And while there is still no man on the horizon, that may simply be a matter of time, too!

Of course, friends have been nagging Katie to return to the dating scene for some time. While there have been whispers of hunky suitors including Jamie Foxx and Alexander Skarsgård, Katie has been reluctant to get into the dating scene. 'I really am focused on motherhood and work right now,' she said last year. But with her hot new look, something tells us she won't be single much longer! ●

Designer Zac Posen is a close pal, spending New Year's Eve with Katie and Suri at Disneyland

Katie will guest star alongside Liev Schreiber on crime series Ray Donovan

TOM CUT OFF HER SOCIAL CIRCLE

During her marriage, Katie was close to Will Smith and Jada Pinkett Smith, and David and Victoria Beckham

Katie ditched her Dawson's Creek pals Michelle Williams, James Van Der Beek and Joshua Jackson

Katie quickly lost touch with her Dawson's Creek mates after meeting Tom, hanging out with his A-list pals instead. And while Tom and David Beckham are still close, Katie was MIA at Victoria's New York Fashion Week show. 'It's clear who won the friends in the divorce,' one observer reveals. 'Tom.'

HER LIFE WAS SO LONELY

Often in New York with only Suri or a bodyguard for company, Katie's life was lonely after her divorce. 'She'll only sneak out once or twice a week incognito to meet with a producer, shop solo at the mall or go to the movies,' a pal said. Katie admits Suri was her only focus. 'It's really just about her and that's what I think is most important,' she says. But Katie is well aware that things change – last month she shared a snap of Suri's hand with the bittersweet caption, 'Growing up fast!'

NEW LIFE IN LA

Since moving to L.A., Katie is no longer the reclusive star she used to be. 'I don't have any fear now,' she says. 'I don't take myself that seriously.'

She's been flying solo since her split with Tom

This time last year, an unknown east coast blonde was about to apply to go on TV love-fest The Bachelor. Fast-forward 12 months and Louise Pillidge is now one of the most recognised faces in Australia, having famously won the heart of Bachelor Blake Garvey, 32.

Late last year, she moved from Brisbane – her home of five years – to start a new life with Blake in Perth, and she couldn't be happier. Now an ambassador for national department store Harris Scarfe, the petite beauty is loving life in her new home town.

Of course, it wasn't all smooth sailing. As most of the nation knows, Blake proposed to another beauty, Sam, on The Bachelor's series finale, before changing his mind as the show went to air, and deciding his number three, Louise, was The One.

In what resembled a real-life soap opera, Blake then wrote to Louise, begging her to give him another chance. Thankfully, she did – and the two are now happily in love.

The controversy surrounding Blake's shock switch has finally died down. Sam has sold the diamond ring he presented her, and Louise, 27, is now focused on settling into her brand new love nest in Perth with her handsome new man. Will there be a girlie reunion with her fellow Bachelor ladies any time soon? 'No, they're all busy doing their own thing and I'm just focused on my life over here,' Louise says.

She invited OK! in for an exclusive peek at their new inner-city home.

Louise, your life's so completely different to this time last year!

Yes. A year ago, I was living in Brisbane. It was March when I went for the audition to appear on The Bachelor. Two weeks after that I found out I was in the show.

Did you ever dream you'd end up with Blake as 'the prize'?

I felt I had nothing to lose. If he was the right person, we'd end up together!

After all the fanfare before you reached that stage, is life more normal now?

Way more normal. Blake's back working long hours in real estate. We're a normal couple, doing fun things together.

And how is it living together?

We're so happy! Our life together is very real, very grounded. We have so much fun together, just going about our daily lives.

Were you nervous about moving in together so soon?

I was very calm. It all fell into place very easily. Blake's a great partner and he's been really helpful and considerate, helping me to settle in.

How are you enjoying Perth?

I haven't spent much time here yet! Since I first moved here in late November we've been to Sydney, Melbourne, Bali, Brisbane, Canberra, Jindabyne and Melbourne! In all, I've only been here a few weeks. I'm getting to know my way around. Blake's taken me to some good restaurants and I'm getting to know his family and friends, who have all been lovely.

DOMESTIC BLISS

Louise credits Blake for making her cross-country move to Perth stress-free – although maybe housework isn't his forte. 'He's a romantic! He tried to iron a top for me the other day, when we were in a rush, but he burnt it!'

Do you get recognised every day?

Yes, pretty much – and especially when I'm with Blake. But it's not a problem. People are friendly and kind.

Any plans yet for kids?

We're just taking it one day at a time, learning about each other and building a strong foundation. Of course, we are family-oriented people so that's definitely something in our future.

You mention you and Blake are learning about each other. Any surprises?

Well, Blake now knows how much I love Beyoncé! I'm always playing her album and he's pretty tolerant of that! I guess I hadn't realised quite how funny Blake is. He's hilarious! It's been great to get to know more of his sense of humour.

Are you quite close with Blake's mum?

Yes, she's a lovely lady. She's been really supportive, and so has his Auntie Dee and his gran. I feel so loved and accepted!

How do your parents feel about Blake?

They're coming over to visit later this month. They love Blake. What they like the most is how happy he makes me and how he brings out the best in me.

Your dad was the one who got the letter from Blake asking you to give him another chance, didn't he?

Yes, Blake gave it to my father who passed it on to me. It's the most beautiful letter. It's very honest and that's what I love about Blake, his honesty.

You're now an ambassador for Harris Scarfe, how did that come about?

Last year I wore a gorgeous Harris Scarfe dress to the Melbourne Cup – my first public outing with Blake. Then they approached me about representing the store, which I'm really happy about. They're all about affordable and easy-to-wear clothes, homewares and manchester.

Is it hard to find new things to wear?

I like Duchess Kate's style – she's not afraid to wear the same thing more than once, she just changes a few things like the bag and the shoes. Plus, being a Harris Scarfe ambassador has its advantages!

Does your life together now seem a world away from reality TV?

We're just living a normal life as a couple now. We're free to do our own thing. And it's wonderful. There's never a dull moment around Blake. He's my best friend. ●

BLAKE SPEAKS OUT!

While they may be blissfully happy now, Blake Garvey admits having to lie about his blossoming relationship with Louise after news broke that he'd ended things with Sam was awful. He even describes it as, 'the worst weekend of my life.' The 32-year-old admits, '[Sam and I] were just two people who weren't happy at the end of the day, and we both knew that, but there's knowing it and doing something about it.' He adds that Sam's sister was not happy that the family could be embarrassed by the turnout of events. Blake also claims he was forced to lie on The Project about his feelings for Louise! 'They [The Project] were aware that things for Sam and I didn't work out very early on, and that there was something happening with Louise, but I was told I couldn't talk about that in the first interview.' Fortunately, the couple have pulled through the dark times to enjoy a regular life in Perth, which includes dates to the basketball and birthday trips to Bali. 'I look forward to the most normal thing in my life, which is my relationship with Louise,' Blake tells OK!. And though they've only been together a matter of months, the former Bachelor says, 'I have no doubts that she is the woman for me and that I'll spend the rest of my life with her. I'm just happy that I've been fortunate enough to find it [love] through everything that happened.'

'It's such a social thing for me, to whip something up and then share it with Blake and friends,' says Louise, who's currently working on a cookbook

BYRON PAD

The property, known as Koeloah, is a stone's throw away from Seven Mile Beach in the Byron Bay suburb of Broken Head.

Elsa loves their 'very hippie' new beachside digs

HAVING CONQUERED HOLLYWOOD, THE ACTOR AND HIS FAMILY ARE BACK HOME IN AUSTRALIA

Chilling with his family in Byron Bay, Chris Hemsworth admits there's no place he'd rather be. 'It's great. Quiet, coastal town – couldn't be further from Hollywood,' he says. 'I really noticed the difference. And you just distance yourself from it and you feel like a human being again. The experiences I had as a kid, I want my kids to have.'

After five months, their new house is finally beginning to feel like a real home. Chris and his wife, Elsa Pataky, splashed out $7 million on their eight-bedroom villa-style pad.

'I repaired a little treehouse,' Chris boasts proudly, tightening the gaps on a small rope bridge to make it safe for their two-year-old daughter, India.

The couple – who are also parents to 11-month-old twins Tristan and Sasha – have also been making the most of Byron's sunny climes and, of course, the beach! 'It's a town that has a special energy,' Elsa says. 'You often see people walking barefoot on the street. I was quite surprised at first, but now even I walk barefoot sometimes!'

While it's a big change from the bright lights of LA, Chris admits he's never been one for the celebrity scene. 'We were in LA for six or seven years and then once we got the opportunity not to be there full-time, it was good to get back to Australia,' he confesses. 'I can't complain about the place because it's given me so much, but you are reminded about the industry every step you take down the street.'

While Chris may have mixed feelings about Hollywood, it certainly likes him! Last year, he was crowned People magazine's Sexiest Man Alive, following hit films including Thor, Snow White and the Huntsman and The Avengers.

Chris finished shooting his latest turn as Thor in Avengers: Age of Ultron in August last year and he'll be back swinging the hammer again before long in Thor: Ragnarok, which is due for release in 2017. 'I can't speak for anyone else, but for me it's been nothing

THE HOMECOMING

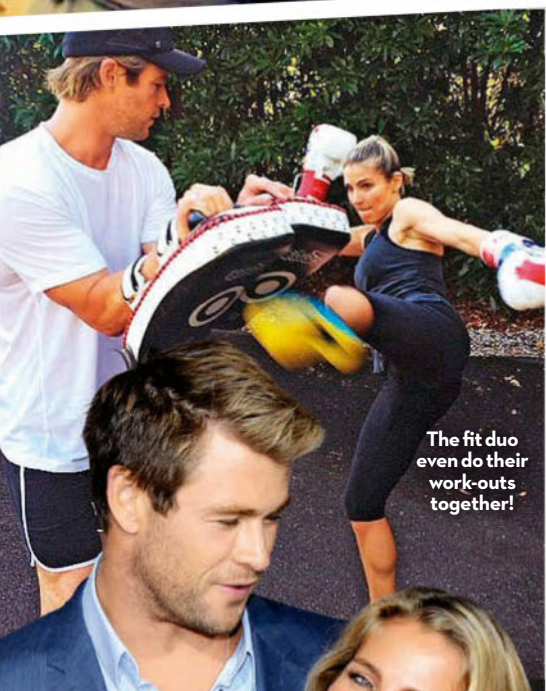

ING KING

It's payback time! Chris gives Jimmy Fallon a dose of his own medicine

The couple have been married for four years but still act like newlyweds! Aww

The fit duo even do their work-outs together!

5 REASONS CHRIS IS AMAZING

HE'S UP FOR A LAUGH

The ultimate good sport, Chris copped a soaking when he lost a game of Water Wars to Jimmy Fallon in January. It didn't hurt that he was wearing a white shirt - which turned transparent after he got drenched.

HE'S A GREAT DAD

Chris's life changed forever when he became a dad. 'My daughter is full of energy, like my wife and I, and strong-minded and has an opinion,' he says. 'And my boys, one's a bit more calm and chill and the other is much more sensitive to things.'

HE'S AN AWESOME HUSBAND

'The best thing I've got from coming to LA was meeting my wife - who is actually from Spain and who was lured here by Hollywood - and who I love very much,' Chris says. 'She's a strong, Spanish woman that's for sure, keeps me in line and it's good.'

THAT SMILE

We love Chris's sexy smile, and now with Elsa and three beautiful kids, he's got a lot to feel happy about. 'It makes it harder to leave and go to work,' he confesses. 'I enjoy being at home a lot more than I ever have.'

HE'S DOWN TO EARTH

He may be People's Sexiest Man Alive, but Chris is as modest as ever. So what was the best part about claiming the title? 'First getting told about it and just laughing, and then telling my wife and my brothers and they laughed even harder, I think,' the Aussie hunk reveals.

'Being a dad, you grow up really quick,' Chris reveals

'I knew he would be an amazing father,' Elsa gushes

Like his brothers, Liam and Luke (above), Chris is always happy to take time out for snaps with fans but a blessing to do the Marvel stuff, he says. 'It opened up every door available to me.'

One of those doors was the Ron Howard-directed racing drama Rush, for which Chris won critical acclaim. 'He was relaxed and had that chemistry,' Ron recalls. 'There is an Aussie work ethic that combines a relaxed state of letting problems come at them and dealing with it.'

Ron and Chris have teamed up a second time for the upcoming period drama In the Heart of the Sea, which will hit cinemas in December. The actor admits he had to get 'rather skinny' for his role as a starving shipwrecked sailor, which wasn't easy.

'It's funny, you've never heard 15 big, burly guys playing sailors talk about their calorie count, what they should and shouldn't eat, what their cheat meal is going to be,' laughs the star, who ate 500-600 calories a day.

While Hollywood still beckons, right now Chris is focusing on his favourite role of all – as a family man. 'You become incredibly more responsible and the kid inside you comes back,' the 31-year-old star says. 'I just love rolling around the floor with India.'

Already, Chris admits his daughter has him wrapped around her little finger. 'We'll say,

I DEFINITELY WANT THE KIDS TO GROW UP IN AUSTRALIA

"OK, that's it. No more ice-cream." And she's like, "Gelato? Ice-cream?" and she pretends to lick an ice-cream, and I'm like, "Oh, she's just too cute." Then she goes crazy because of the sugar, so it backfires,' says Chris.

The gender balance changed again, of course, when Chris and Elsa welcomed sons Tristan and Sasha in March last year. There have been lots of nappies to change, but Chris has become a pro. 'I'm good, man,' he says. 'Depends on how messy it is. Sometimes you gotta give 'em a hose-down.'

It was through their mutual agent, William Ward, that Chris met the love of his life, Elsa. The pair married over the Christmas holidays in 2010, three months after they'd taken their romance public. Asked what first attracted him to the 38-year-old Spanish-born stunner, Chris coos, 'Obviously she's beautiful. She makes me laugh, and we have fun.'

These days, the pair are more in love than ever – even though he admits Elsa's patience can be tested. 'I have trouble concentrating. I'll be into the conversation, and then all of a sudden there will be something over here that I'm thinking about. She's like, "Chris, are

Elsa's AUSSIE DIARY

It's no secret that Elsa loves a bit of Australiana – and not just Chris! Other things she's fallen in love with include Vegemite, Tiny Teddies and the local fashions! Writing on her blog, Elsa talked about her new home, 'where we're living now has really inspired me'. Of moving to Australia, she explains, '[Chris] has such good memories, and I want something similar for my family.'

you even listening?" and I'm like, "Yeah, yeah, yeah. I just didn't hear that last bit because you're Spanish. Your English isn't real good," he says. 'Which drives her crazy because her English is perfect.'

Elsa speaks five languages – including Romanian, French and Italian – while their kids are also growing up bilingual. 'My daughter is speaking Spanish and English and every day it's something different,' Chris says.

So are there more kids on the way? 'We do not plan to have more children,' Elsa admits. 'But you can never say never.'

Family means everything to Chris, who was raised with his brothers, Luke, 33, and Liam, 25, in Victoria by their parents, Leonie and Craig. 'My mum always used to say to me that, out of her three boys, "Chris, you were the girl,"' he recalls.

Like Chris, both of his brothers are in the acting biz – something that's come in handy for mentoring and support, especially during his early days on Home and Away.

'Back when I was still on the soap, I became incredibly insecure and full of anxiety because I didn't know if I was any good. I spent years being angsty, constantly telling people I wasn't just part of a soap opera, that I was a real artist,' he says. 'And I remember Luke [who was in Neighbours] sort of snapping, telling me to shut up.'

Chris says another humbling experience was finishing fifth on Dancing with the Stars in 2006. 'After that show, I could never pull the serious, self-important card again,' he jokes.

It's exactly that down-to-earth attitude that Chris hopes to share with his kids, now that they're being raised Aussie! 'I missed [Australia] and my wife missed it too,' he reveals. 'We're spending more and more time back in Australia and I definitely want the kids to grow up here and spend time here.' ●

I'm moving to AUSSIE

It seems that as soon as a celeb touches down on our beautiful shores, they immediately declare they're going to stay permanently! But the old 'I'm moving to Australia' line that many stars spout must be more of a PR charm offensive than actual plans to call our country home, as most never do. Voice coach Joel Madden's father-in-law Lionel Richie says daughter Nicole and Joel ditch LA for Oz as often as they can. 'Every time I talk to him he can't stop raving about how great it is in Australia. I love the place, too, but I don't want them to move there,' says Lionel. 'I keep reminding them how far it is for Grandad to travel to see the grandkids.' Maybe all of these famous peeps have a relative back home stopping them from making the move, too!

KATHERINE HEIGL

The actress admits her husband, singer Josh Kelley, 35, has inspired her to consider Oz as a permanent home. 'He loves Australia so much. He does great in Australia, so we have a really solid back-up plan. Australia is amazing,' says Katherine, 36. 'My back-up plan is to sell all my things, move to Australia and be a big star there.' Considering she's just joined US TV show State of Affairs, we'll believe it when we see it!

RITA ORA

'I'm always saying to my label, "Please find me a reason to go to Australia..." I'm looking for a house,' 24-year-old Rita declared in 2013. She must be struggling to find the perfect property - despite her millions - as she's yet to make the big move.

RICKY MARTIN

When he jetted in to take up his judging gig on The Voice in 2013, Ricky Martin, 43, swiftly claimed to be making the move a permanent one. 'You guys have been so welcoming and I feel totally at ease here,' he said. Yet as soon as the season wrapped filming in July last year, he was on the first flight out of here!

Oz', not!

THEY CAME, THEY SAW...
BUT THEY NEVER STAY

FIBBERS

JOEL & BENJI MADDEN

We have adopted The Voice judges and they've had plenty of success on our shores. And the love is mutual. 'This is definitely our second home, for sure,' says Benji, who claims he and his brother have been looking for a home here. However, Joel admits, 'I love my life in Australia and I love being in Sydney, but I also love my life in LA and New York.'

ELLEN DEGENERES & PORTIA DE ROSSI

'I can see us living here one day,' says talk show host Ellen, 57, who fell in love with the country after visiting with wife and Aussie native Portia de Rossi in 2013. And though Portia, 42, tweeted in October, 'I miss Australia', the pair only stayed for a week during their trip - and haven't been back since.

GIULIANA RANCIC

'I wasn't even kidding,' says E! star Giuliana Rancic, 40, of her admission that she and husband Bill Rancic, 43, have considered moving Down Under. But a move may not be on the cards just yet. Giuliana admitted last year of the couple's two-year-old son, 'Bill and I feel very strongly about raising Duke in Chicago.'

MEL B

The former Spice Girl doesn't just want to live in Australia, she's claimed she wants to become a citizen of our fine nation! 'Hopefully they are going to want me here for a long time,' Mel said of Aussies in 2012. But since then, the 39-year-old has spent more time in the UK and the US than she has here.

JEN ANISTON

'The people are so kind and you end up wanting to live there,' says Jen. 'So who knows, maybe I'll live there.' But we doubt the 46-year-old actress really has serious plans of ditching the lavish $21 million Bel-Air pad she's been painstakingly decorating with fiancé Justin Theroux, 43, for a new life on our sunny shores.

ZAC EFRON

'I love Australia,' says Zac, who reveals he enjoys slipping into the country unnoticed. 'We jump into a little bus and my Aussie friends know all of the best surfing spots. We surf every day and barbecue every afternoon.' But despite this idyllic-sounding lifestyle, the 27-year-old is yet to make the move.

Their kids Josie and Thomas are the couple's main motivation for doing The Block

Ayden & Jess

THE BLOCK

SENT US BROKE

THE YOUNG PARENTS KEEP THEIR HEADS HELD HIGH DESPITE DOING IT TOUGH

We're just past the halfway point in The Block Triple Threat, and the strain of renovating a building so far from their Queensland home and kids is hitting Ayden and Jess, both 31, hard. The tension – which erupts on the show this week as the couple's constant bickering sees Jess break down in tears – is a sign of stressful times that run deeper than the renovation at hand. The married duo, who wed in 2008, are also struggling with being away from their two young children, Josie, five, and Thomas, two, and the reality of bills piling up at home has become a major worry for the young parents.

'We recently bought a block of land [so] we have a mortgage, and [then there's] rent for the house we're living in, [all of which] we still have to pay while we're on The Block,' tells Ayden. 'And obviously while we're on here, we're not making any money to pay those bills,' adds Jess.

Putting Ayden's cabinet-making business, and Jess's job at her father's souvenir shop on hold, both are hoping their efforts on the show don't go unrewarded.

On a rare date night out, the twosome talk to OK! about the challenges of Block life and how it could be life-changing for their family.

Are you happy to be on the show?

Ayden: It was never really our idea. [To Jess] It was your mum's, I think?

Jess: She's been saying for years, 'You guys should apply – and I'll look after the kids.'

Ayden: We renovated our old house and she saw us do that, even though that took us about five years! [Laughs]

Is it true you'd never watched a series?

Ayden: We've watched one episode – that explains why when [foreboy] Dan walked in, we didn't know who he was.

Has it been difficult making ends meet while on the show?

Jess: It definitely is a sacrifice.

Have you done it tough before now?

Ayden: I had five or six guys working for me 12 months ago, and it went a bit pear-shaped and I owed a lot of money, but that's all sorted now. I don't owe anyone money. We're just paying the mortgage and rent while we're on The Block. We would need to win about $50,000 to break even.

If you win, you'll take home a fair bit of cash. How would that change your lives?

Jess: We've got a young family and most people with young families know that money is a precious commodity, so the more of that you can get, the better.

Ayden: Winning The Block is like winning the lotto, and I know how I'd feel winning the lotto. [Laughs]

Did The Block Glasshouse auction results make you rethink going on the show?

Jess: Yeah, we were worried. It's a lot of time you're giving up – and we obviously came on to win some money.

Have you had moments where you had second thoughts about being there?

Jess: There have been several moments where I've thought, 'I'm done!' Especially when it comes to the judges' comments and trying to please them. I've struggled with that.

Ayden: Mainly we've struggled being apart from the kids. It makes us wonder if we're selfish for doing this.

Jess: They're only little and everything changes so much when they're that young.

Any plans to extend your family?

Ayden: I had plans, but they were squashed. Jess pointed out the reality of it...

Jess: We'd have to start all over again. But that's not really what it is, I'm happy with what we've got.

Ayden: A boy and a girl, they're both healthy. You can't ask for more than that.

'She's tough-minded – just tough, full stop,' Ayden says of Jess

Watch The Block Triple Threat Mon-Thurs at 7.30pm on Channel 9

FIGHT CLUB

Ayden and Jess's penchant for tearing into each other should they not see eye-to-eye – yes, F-bombs have been unleashed – has scored the couple some harsh criticism from fans of the show. But the wedded couple say they're fighters normally. 'Yeah, we have our blow-ups, but it's not like we don't talk to each other all week,' explains Ayden. 'Especially when we're stressed and under pressure,' adds Jess. 'That's when I am constantly yelling.' Ayden continues, 'There's nothing really that serious [about the disagreements]. Once I get over the fact that she's right and I'm wrong, then everything's fine.'

'It'll all be resolved by me being quiet,' says Ayden of their arguments

Ayden and Jess enjoyed a whirlwind romance, getting engaged just six months after meeting. 'I had to get in quick before she really knew who I was!' jokes Ayden

Jess, you often refer to Ayden as your 'third child' anyway...

Ayden is always doing something ridiculous and childlike.

Do your children like to copy Dad?

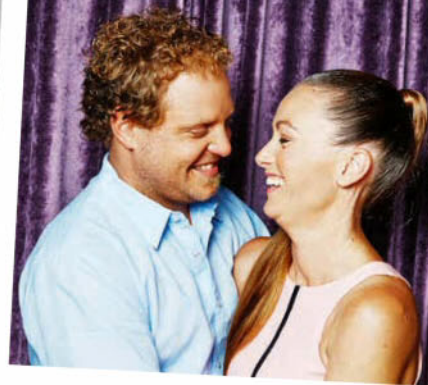

Ayden: Our kids are so polite. I'm not even biased, Jess has done a really good job there.

Jess: They love a bit of rough-housing, though – they get stuck into him.

How are you coping with the physical nature of The Block?

Jess: Ayden has lost a lot of weight – he's almost half [what he was] now, I reckon.

Ayden: There were a few days when we had to lift two-to-three tonnes of bricks up and down three flights of stairs. When I'm out of here, all I'm going to be doing is eating hot dogs and drinking beer!

And how are you getting along with the other teams?

Jess: It's OK – there has been a bit of friction between Dea and Anastasia.

Ayden: But we've been too busy to get involved in that. Everyone pretty much keeps to themselves, apart from the challenges. ●

GAGA'S 'I DO' DETAILS

Lady Gaga isn't wasting any time! Just one week after announcing her Valentine's Day engagement, In Touch has learned that the Applause singer and her new fiancé, actor Taylor Kinney, are already in giddy planning mode. "They're hoping to get married at Gaga's mansion in Malibu," an insider close to the pop star says of the $23 million estate. "It's perfect because it's set in the hills and surrounded by undeveloped mountains. She describes it as 'the closest thing to heaven.'" While the couple are still playing around with ideas (like an all-white wedding!), one thing they're sure of is the intimate guest list. "Both of their immediate families will be there, and, of course, [Gaga's close friend, singer] Tony Bennett," says the insider, who adds that besides that, "only a few celebrities will make the list." That's because Gaga, 28, and the Chicago Fire star, 33, want the focus of their big day to be on the love they have for each other. "Gaga wants a sweet, sexy, romantic wedding," adds the insider. "She's just so in love."

"Gaga and Taylor are like little kids anxiously planning their wedding," says an insider.

SELENA SKIPS JUSTIN'S BIG NIGHT

There's one celeb who won't be poking fun at Justin Bieber at his upcoming Comedy Central Roast: his ex Selena Gomez. She was asked to take part and initially considered it, but "Selena declined," says an insider close to Justin, 21, whose special will air March 30. "Now that she's dating DJ Zedd, she thinks it would be incredibly disrespectful to him if she were to do it." While the music producer, 25, is happy Selena, 22, opted out, Justin is fuming. "He really wanted her there," says the insider. "He's hoping he can change her mind." He shouldn't hold his breath. "Selena, is really happy right now," says the insider.

"Justin is hurt," says an insider.

DIANA TO ASHLEE: PAY YOUR OWN BILLS!

Diana Ross is "The Boss" — and she's not letting her son Evan, 26, and his wife, Ashlee Simpson, 30, forget it. "Diana's been generously footing their bills and she's sick of it," says a Ross family insider, adding that the legendary singer, 70, feels like the couple, who are expecting their first child later this year (Ashlee's already mom to son Bronx, 6), need to step up in the financial department. "Ashlee doesn't work and Evan isn't making money, yet they're blowing through [Diana's]," adds the insider. The newlyweds can expect the money flow to dry up soon!

"Ashlee and Evan's spending is out of control," says a Ross family insider.

HALLE'S CHILD SUPPORT NIGHTMARE

According to Halle Berry, Gabriel Aubry, 38, needs to be reminded what child support is for! In Touch has learned that the actress, 48, plans to take her ex to court to reduce her monthly payments from $18,000 to $6,000. "She thinks Gabriel's using the money for himself," instead of their daughter, Nahla, 6, says a source. The model (who was allegedly unable to work for two years due to injuries obtained in a brawl with Halle's husband Olivier Martinez, 49, in Nov. 2012) "doesn't have to pay for dental or vision insurance, not even a penny of Nahla's school tuition," the source says. Halle's lawyers tracked his spending and in private legal proceedings, the insider claims Gabriel admitted to shelling out $500 on Botox, $400 on tanning, $950 on clothes, $2,500 on a personal trainer, $15,000 on hair transplants and more! "Halle's worried her money is being used for his lifestyle," the source adds. "She's hoping to put an end to it."

WHY HILARY FINALLY FILED FOR DIVORCE

It took more than a year, but Hilary Duff, 27, has ended her marriage to Mike Comrie, 34. The reason? His actions during a wild night out. "Mike was out of control," says a source, adding that the former NHL player seemed to be drunk when he propositioned a waitress at Beverly Hills eatery Mastro's Steakhouse on Jan. 30, then approached a couple and offered to pay the woman for sex. "Mike claimed it was a friend who was with him that night," says the source. Apparently it didn't take long for Hilary to figure out he was lying.

Hilary and Mike, who are parents to son Luca, 2, are through after this latest incident.

"She takes things way too seriously." Her advice to NeNe, 47, if she does decide to stay? "Lose some ego," says Claudia. "Just be nice — it's not that hard!"

MARIAH FREAKS OVER NICK'S NEW LOVE

Nick Cannon is a quick healer! Just nine weeks after filing for divorce from Mariah Carey, the America's Got Talent host, 34, was spotted at a Manhattan restaurant with Michael Strahan's ex-fiancée, Nicole Murphy, 47 — on Valentine's Day. "They were definitely not acting like just friends," explains an onlooker, who says the two were holding hands at a table in the main dining room. Mariah's response? "She had heard that Nick was seeing Nicole, but she thought it was low of him to parade her around on Valentine's Day," a Mariah insider tells In Touch. "Especially since they had an agreement to keep their post-split dates out of the public eye to protect their kids [3-year-old twins Moroccan and Monroe]." The singer, 44, is now out for revenge. "She's thinking of dragging the divorce out to make him miserable. She might even contact Nicole to warn her about his wandering eye," says the source. That might not matter to Nicole (who has five kids with ex-hubby Eddie Murphy). According to the onlooker, a Mariah Carey song played during dinner, but the duo were so into each other they didn't notice: "It was crazy!"

"Mariah thinks Nick is trying to rub it in her face," says a source close to the singer.

DIANNA AGRON & ELSA PATAKY

The 28-year-old Glee star (left) and the Furious 7 actress, 38, both wear smoky eyes, red lips and up-'dos on the red carpet. But only one gets to make out with Chris Hemsworth — his lucky wife, Elsa!

SCANDAL

Selena Gomez is not a child star anymore! And to prove it, the former Disney actress posed topless for V magazine in a series of baby-doll poses that were misinterpreted — to put it mildly. “Your perverse photo shoot makes her look like a child,” wrote one angry reader, calling it “inappropriate fodder for pedophiles.” A source close to the 22-year-old tells In Touch she was “shocked” by the backlash. “She’s horrified that people think it looks like child pornography. What she wanted to come off as risqué and cute came off as exploitation. She wants to be taken seriously as a powerful, sexy woman, and this brought her several steps back.” The bottom line? “She learned a big lesson about always having control of her image.”

mancandyoftheweek LIEV SCHREIBER

The 47-year-old Ray Donovan star (in Brentwood, LA, on Feb. 15) credits boxing, biking and surfing for his fit physique. “I’m not exactly Joe Trainer,” he downplays. We beg to differ!

Cody Simpson

The singer performed at Cotton On for the I Give a Brick campaign, which raised $1 million to build a school in Uganda.

ALLISON: MY DAD IS AN HONEST MAN

Embattled NBC Nightly News anchor Brian Williams has at least one person in his corner: daughter Allison Williams. "He's an honest, truthful man," insists the Girls star, 26. "He cares so much about journalism." That's been up for debate since the 55-year-old newsman was suspended without pay until August for making false claims about getting shot at in Iraq in 2003. Allison wants to make sure no one conflates Brian's career misstep with his off-air persona. "He's a really good dad," she says.

KIM DRESSES NORTH IN 'BULLETPROOF VEST' HARMLESS FUN OR DISTURBING?

Kim Kardashian posted an Instagram pic on Feb. 17 of her 20-month-old daughter North wearing a "#BabyYeezyBulletProofVest" from hubby Kanye West's collection. "Disturbing," wrote a skeptic on Instagram. "Who puts a bulletproof vest on a toddler?" A Kim fan's response? "Cutest baby eva."

Nicki's Nip Slip

Nicki Minaj bared more boobage than usual at a bash for Derek Jeter's website, The Players' Tribune.

SETH MEYERS:

"According to a new study, men view women with larger butts as better workers. When she heard this, even Kim Kardashian said, 'Come on!'"

JIMMY KIMMEL:

"The S&M community is divided on Fifty Shades of Grey. Some say it's not an accurate portrayal of their lifestyle, some say it is — and others aren't saying anything because they have ball gags in their mouths!"

CONAN O'BRIEN:

"NBC has suspended Brian Williams for six months without pay. Williams said he's not worried because soon, his veterans' benefits will kick in."

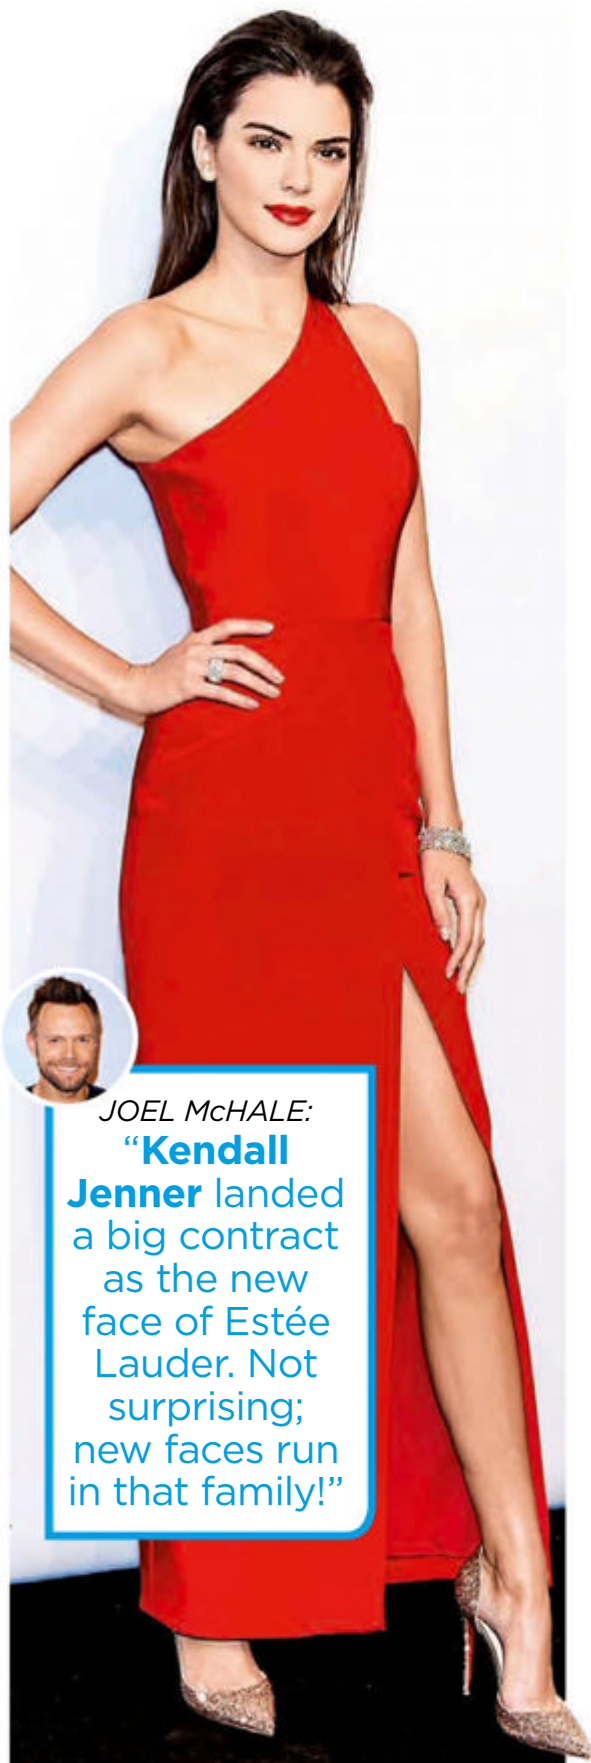

WARREN HOLSTEIN:

"Lady Gaga is getting married. She better hope none of her bridesmaids are vegan!"

JIMMY FALLON:

"Tiger Woods announced that he is quitting golf until his game improves. Making him the first man in history to quit his job and play less golf."

LEONARDO DICAPRIO

Leo holidaying with a bountiful bevy of supermodels is as sure as Kanye ruining the Grammys. His latest break saw him drinking beers and swimming with a host of models in St Barts in January as he continued his tour of the globe with the world's most beautiful women by his side. From Bora Bora, Ibiza and even Australia, Leo's holidaying habits prove he does not relish alone time.

CARA DELEVINGNE

You'd think that the ultimate It girl would want some time away from the A-listers when she goes on holiday. Nope! Her holiday guest list includes Thanksgiving with Kate Hudson, keeping up with the Kardashians at Christmas, jumping off French yachts with Selena Gomez in Saint-Tropez and Mexican love romps with Michelle Rodriguez. 'My way of relaxing was always doing the opposite,' Cara laughs. 'I need to be able to actually chill.'

Never one to miss the fun, Rihanna joined the boat crew too

JEN ANISTON & JUSTIN THEROUX

'I was on vacation with Jennifer Aniston in Mexico... which sounds obnoxious I know,' Jimmy Kimmel admits. Jen's holiday pals list reads like a VIP party. Courtney Cox is a constant companion, having been around the world with Jen - including many trips to their favourite destination, Cabo. And there may be another reason for Jen's holidays - getting closer to fiancé Justin Theroux. When asked in 2005 what she would have done to prevent her split from then-hubby Brad Pitt, she said, 'I'd take more vacations - getting away from work, enjoying each other in different environments.'

RIHANNA

This ultimate party girl shines bright like a diamond while on vacation. Mainly because she is playing host to her girlfriends, who are her ultimate travelling companions. Especially long-time pal Melissa Forde, who is regularly snapped by RiRi's side as they holiday around the world. 'Nobody in the world could make me laugh this hard, nobody could keep my dirty lil secrets like you, you literally make bitches wish they had an M. Forde by their side,' RiRi gushes over her travel buddy.

OK! INTRODUCES YOU TO BRITAIN'S NEXT WAVE OF FAMOUS OFFSPRING

They're young, impossibly hip and getting ready to take London by storm. And if their names sound familiar, it's because these stars-in-the-making also come with some impressive pedigrees!

If being born famous has its downsides, these young stars aren't too worried about it. 'I'm not going to be anti-fame,' says 18-year-old model Rafferty Law, who's already earning comparisons to his famous actor dad, Jude Law. 'If you have a following and you're doing well, you should be grateful,' Raff adds.

'Everyone always asks me what it's like, but to me, it's just normal.'

It's a similar story for 16-year-old Brooklyn Beckham. His parents, David and Victoria, want him to be grounded. 'They are very privileged and they have a lovely life,' David says of his kids. 'But we are very strict parents. We want to bring them up as closely as possible to how we were brought up, because you have to give them manners, you have to give them boundaries.'

From Madonna's son Rocco to Kate Moss's little sis Lottie, allow us to tell you more about the up-and-coming Brit Pack!

BROOKLYN BECKHAM

LOTTIE MOSS

THE NEW

BROOKLYN BECKHAM

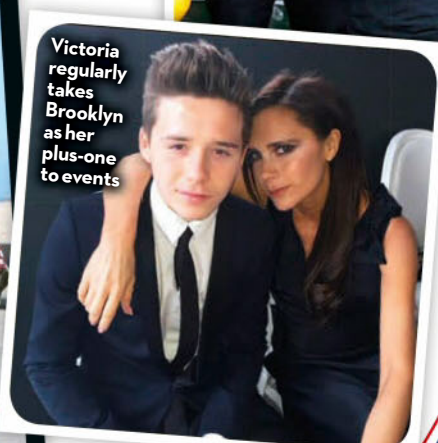

WHAT DOES HE DO? As the eldest son of David and Victoria Beckham, Brooklyn needs no introduction.

Younger bro Romeo, 12, may have been first to get a modelling contract, but Brooklyn is catching up fast! Having made his debut for Man About Town mag last year, he's now scored a campaign with the fashion label, Reserved. TELL US MORE... Thanks to social media, Brooklyn's also quite the teen heart-throb - and he's recently been linked to Hollywood actress Chloë Moretz, 18. But he's humble, too. Last year he took on a $5 an hour job as a barista at a London cafe. 'I want my kids to have a good work ethic,' says Victoria.

Following in dad David's footsteps, Brooklyn plays soccer for Arsenal's under-16s team

'Kate was a massive part of why I started,' says Lottie (left) of modelling

LOTTIE MOSS

WHAT DOES SHE DO? First spied by Storm Models at half-sister Kate Moss's 2011 wedding, Lottie signed up with the agency last year. She has scored gigs with Dazed & Confused and Miss Vogue magazines in the UK, and fashion labels Calvin Klein and Red Valentino.

TELL US MORE... Sharing the same dad as Kate, Lottie, 17, is a typical teen. 'On my wardrobe, it's Justin Bieber,' she says. 'There's a zone dedicated to Leonardo DiCaprio. And Zac Efron has his own wall.'

Dad Jude was there to cheer on Raff when he made his catwalk debut

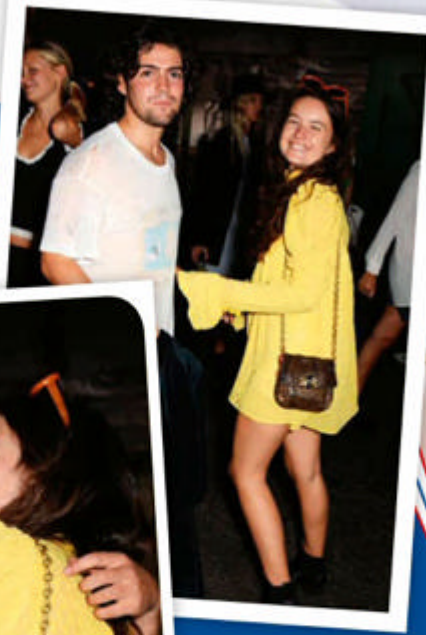

RAFFERTY LAW

WHAT DOES HE DO? With his dad Jude Law's movie star looks, Rafferty signed with Select Model Management in 2013. Last year he made a catwalk splash for DKNY. Rafferty also loves playing in his band, Dirty Harrys.

TELL US MORE... Rafferty, 18, lives in London with his mum, designer Sadie Frost, sister Iris, 14, and brother Rudy, 12. He says dad Jude, 'is very strict. If I miss a lesson, my dad comes down on me really hard.'

'I'm in love and we'll be getting married,' Amba says of her childhood sweetheart, Frankie

AMBA ISIS JACKSON

WHAT DOES SHE DO? Amba's mum is designer Jade Jagger, her dad is artist Piers Jackson - and Rolling Stones frontman Mick Jagger is her grandad. Amba was 13 when she donned hotpants to promote her mum's Queen of Teens fashion line. Now in the midst of a gap year, Amba, 18, plans to go to uni to study fashion. TELL US MORE... At 16, Amba moved in with her boyfriend, Frankie Legrange, the son of a rich financier. They plan to marry.

Amba and mum Jade are regular fixtures at fashion shows and events

'I've got the same dry northern humour as Dad and we've got the same eyebrows,' says Anaïs

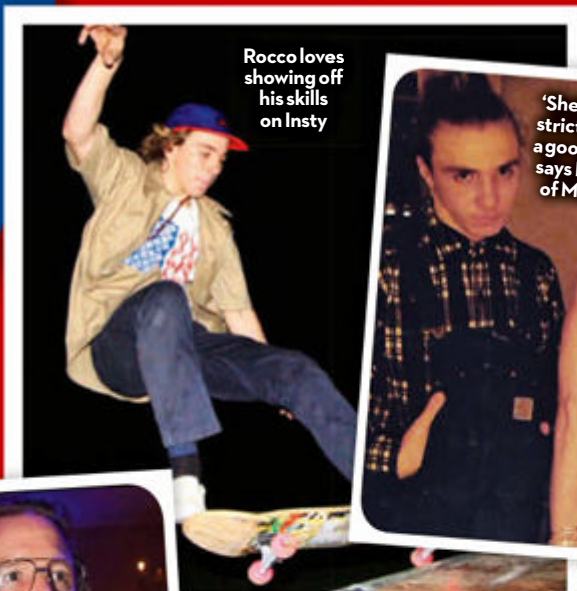

The teen says her Accessorize gig was, 'a chance to get creative and have fun'

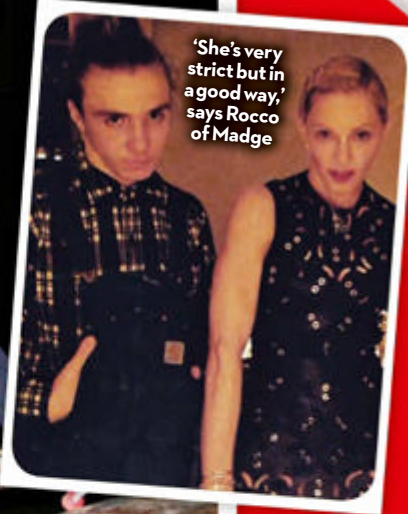

ANAÏS GALLAGHER

WHAT DOES SHE DO? The daughter of former Oasis rocker Noel Gallagher and his ex, Meg Matthews, signed to Select Model agency at 11. She's now scored a gig with UK retailer Accessorize, as the face of their youth brand, STAR. 'It's exciting,' says Anaïs, who's also a regular TV presenter on Friday Download. TELL US MORE... Anaïs, 15, loves Topshop, veggie burgers and One Direction. 'Harry [Styles] seems really nice,' she shares.

Rocco loves showing off his skills on Insty

'She's very strict but in a good way,' says Rocco of Madge

Rocco and Guy dress up as Breaking Bad characters

ROCCO RITCHIE

WHAT DOES HE DO? He's the son of pop star Madonna and film director Guy Ritchie. You can find him on Instagram enjoying his favourite sports - snowboarding, skateboarding and the acrobatic military style training, parkour. Taking after his director dad Guy, he's been known to make videos of his stunts. TELL US MORE... Splitting his time between his dad's London home and his mum's New York pad - and Malawi, Africa, where his adopted siblings David, nine, and Mercy, nine, were born - Rocco, 14, is one jet-setting teen.

DESIGNER HENRY HOLLAND

How did you choose Lily Allen as the face of your new campaign?
I've been a fan of Lily's image and music for ages. We've also been creating looks for her tour so it seemed a natural fit to have her in the eyewear campaign.

How would you describe the House of Holland girl?

She's a London girl at heart and likes to mix it up – she doesn't have one definitive look.

What was your inspiration for the eyewear collection?

We took classic shapes and reworked them to make them more fun and playful, such as legs instead of the normal sunglasses arms.

3 Nude make-up

'Let flawless skin speak for itself with a warm, neutral colour story. I love the simplicity of the look and how it creates just as much impact as something bold or bright. Nude make-up is the perfect fit for a polished look!'

NP
TOP TIPS

- A great nude look starts with a great contour. Start by sculpting the face with contouring powder that's one or two shades deeper than your skin tone, applying across the cheekbones, jawline and temples.
- Give the eyes structure and define the nose by sweeping the contour shade through the socket of the eye and down the sides of the nose.
- Add passion to a nude look and keep it current by playing with contrasting textures and tones. Try a metallic bronze on the eyes and team with a matte nude lip and peach cream blush.

CATE BLANCHETT

The Romantic Bun

Stylist Renya Xydis, ambassador for Wella Professionals, took a modern approach to the low bun when creating Cate Blanchett's 'do for the night. 'To balance Cate's high-cut neckline, we added volume and body in the front and sides, sweeping the hair up to complement her beautiful neckline.'

- 1 Blowdry freshly washed hair, lifting the roots to create body.
- 2 Spray salt spray into your roots for texture and an oil on the ends to smooth, before blowdrying again to create more volume.
- 3 Create loose waves with a large-barrelled wand to give the hair texture.
- 4 Spray hairspray into the crown area and tease with a comb.
- 5 Rake fingers through the hair, gently pulling into a twist and pin at the nape of the neck, finishing with more hairspray.

MINI TREND:

UNDERCUTS

It seems undercuts are making a comeback this year, with stylish stars Scarlett Johansson and Rosamund Pike rocking them on the Academy Awards red carpet. The key to this look is to wear it understated with a structured updo.

The Pretty Pony

'I was inspired by Diane's outfit,' says celeb hairstylist Adir Abergel for Moroccanoil. 'I loved the flowing top and I wanted to create the same movement with her hair.'

- 1 Create a deep side part in line with the highest arch of your eyebrow.
- 2 Apply mousse from roots to ends and roughly blowdry before curling hair.
- 3 Once curls have cooled, brush out and backcomb the crown to create height.
- 4 Pull one side of the hair tight into a ponytail and secure, wrapping a section of hair around to cover the elastic.
- 5 Let the other side of the hair cascade down and smooth with styling cream before using hairspray for hold.

MKR CHEATING SCANDAL!

THE GLOVES ARE OFF AS DIRTY PLAY LEAVES THE MY KITCHEN RULES TABLE IN TATTERS

'It's game on,' says a fuming Nikki (left), here with pal Katie

JUDGES CRACK

The drama has shocked Manu Feildel and Pete Evans. 'The competition is tougher this year,' admits Manu. 'All they want to do is win,' adds Pete.

With highly coveted places at Kitchen HQ at stake, MKR's redemption round proves just how ruthless returning contestants are prepared to be to stay in the game. 'You can't trust anyone,' snipes Katie, 21.

The drama erupts when Katie and her MKR partner Nikki, 20, accuse Victorian contestants Jane and Emma of ripping off their winning recipe. 'I think they copied us,' explains Katie. 'I really think that dish wouldn't be on their menu if ours hadn't got such a good rap.'

While dining at Katie and Nikki's restaurant, Jane and Emma, both 27, couldn't speak highly enough of the 'above average' dish they are now serving up as their own – and Nikki says that the move is 'desperate'.

The tension behind the scenes was far from friendly, explains Emma. 'It gets fiery because food means so much to us all,' she says.

Controversial WA contender Kat, 31, openly admits that strategic voting has taken over the game, changing it from a competition of cooking skills to one where teams compete to see who can sink the lowest.

'Everyone was scoring badly because they knew that's how they'd stay in the game,' she says. 'At least I was up-front about it and didn't do it sneakily like others. We're not pricks.'

CLAWS ARE OUT!

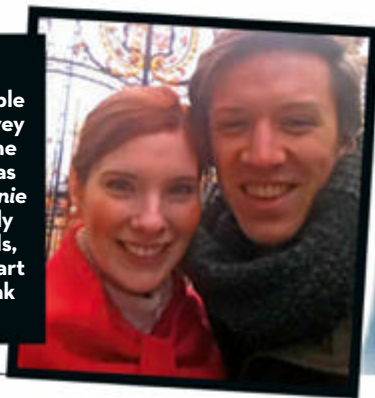

IT'S WAR BETWEEN ANNIE AND KAT!

There's certainly no love lost between Kat and Annie, aka 'Bambi', and there are no apologies coming from Kat about making her flame-haired rival cry. 'I do feel bad about that but at the time we were on the bottom of the leader board and I just lost it,' Kat tells OK!. 'Annie did frustrate me and other contestants, though. Off camera, she'd say one thing and then she'd say something completely different on camera, in a cutesy voice like that made it OK. Or she'd be in tears one minute and then take any opportunity to have a dig at me, like saying, "Oh are you the oldest at the table, Kat?" She's just not my kind of person.'

Annie says she's sick of the drama. 'Lloyd and I just want to move on,' she sighs. However, while she's staying diplomatic now, Kat says it was a very different story during filming. 'Annie gave as good as she got, don't be confused by her Disney charm.'

OUR SEX SECRETS

The pristine front that SA couple Annie and Lloyd, both 23, convey has been slightly tainted by the bedroom revelations Annie has shared. 'I sing classics from Annie [in bed] and even put the curly wig on sometimes,' she reveals, while her high school sweetheart beau admits that she is a 'freak in the sheets'. TML, guys!

MKR ruined my modelling career

PILING ON WEIGHT HAS CALLED A HALT TO NIKKI'S CATWALK CAREER

Most MKR contestants put on a few kilograms while on the show. For most it doesn't matter too much, but when your butcher's shop wage is supplemented with modelling gigs, the effect is disastrous.

'I've put on 5kg,' says 180cm model Nikki, who weighed in at a slender 59kg prior to the show. 'I was freaking out.'

The blonde bombshell is now hard at work in the gym trying to shed the extra weight. 'It's coming off slowly but I'm not there yet,' Nikki admits, adding, 'When I realised I'd put on so much, I was like, "This is terrible. The only work I'll be able to get, if any, is as a curvy model. How embarrassing!"'

MODEL BEHAVIOUR

Nikki has strutted her stuff on the catwalk for the likes of L'Oréal and recently did a shoot with fashion photographer Kent Johnson.

JUST OVER A WEEK TO GO!

Julia missed her husband, Dan (inset), and two daughters while in the jungle

Watch I'm A Celebrity... Get Me Out of Here, Sunday 6.30pm, and Monday-Thursday, 7.30pm, on Channel 10

Julia's over the jungle

I'M MOVING TO AMERICA

THE HILARIOUS COMEDIENNE TELLS OK! ABOUT A NEW ADVENTURE SHE'S PLANNING

While jungle life sits well with the ever-glowing Julia Morris, she won't be heading back to South Africa anytime soon, unless there's a second season of I'm A Celeb..., that is. 'If we get a second season, I'll definitely build a holiday onto it so my girls [Julia has two young daughters, Ruby and Sophie] can come over,' she says.

This time, though, the 46-year-old is heading straight home to reunite with her daughters and hubby Dan Thomas, who have been missing her after spending almost two months apart. As for what's next, a move to the US could be on the cards. The family moved to LA between 2010 and 2011 – but she's keen to have another crack. 'I would go back in a heartbeat,' she says.

JULIA OF THE JUNGLE

SHE SCORED MORE SCREEN TIME THAN THE CELEBS, FOR EXACTLY THESE REASONS...

1 HER IMPECCABLE FASHION SENSE

No-one can pull off jungle glamour in hot-pink trainers quite like Julia. We couldn't go to bed without seeing what fabulous outfit she'd teamed with her trainers for her trek to camp.

2 HER DR CHRIS BROWN LOVE-IN

While the not-so-fun puns were grating, the overplayed crush with her 'Hansel' (plus touching and twerking on him) lit up social media with memes, tweets and hilarious jabs.

3 HER CRINGE-FREE ABILITY

Her composure at the challenges is unwavering, and her ability to take a selfie during these times, admirable. She's got guts – 'or a hidden bag of smelling salts,' she tells OK!.

NEIGHBOURS EXCLUSIVE!

DELTA'S BACK ON THE STREET!

THE SONGSTRESS RECONNECTS WITH HER ACTING ROOTS

'Look out, Ramsay Street, Nina [Tucker] is back!' Delta Goodrem told Neighbours fans when she headed back on set to film the show's 30th anniversary special. Her excitement at returning to our screens in the role that made her a household name is, of course, understandable, as her time on the show was cut short when she was diagnosed with Hodgkin's disease back in 2003.

The Voice coach was 'overjoyed' about sinking her teeth into a meatier Nina Tucker storyline this time around. Now we see Nina, who is a world-famous songstress, putting her do-gooder ways into action when she attempts to fly under the radar and spontaneously offers up her services as a housekeeper.

As our exclusive on-set pictures show, the stunning 30-year-old looks confident back in her debut role, and she tells OK! that leaving Neighbours for good will just never be an option for her.

'Like any family, time is the most precious thing and being here has meant the world to me,' she says, sentimentally adding, 'It's where everything started for me.'

Watch Neighbours 30th: The Stars Reunite, Monday, March 16, 7.30pm, on Channel 10 and ELEVEN

Will the wedding of Amber Turner (Jenna Rosenow) and Daniel Robinson (Tim Phillipps) go ahead?

WHAT'S GOING ON, 30 YEARS ON?

Familiar faces descend upon Ramsay Street during the week commencing March 16, and it's not one big welcome home party...

Imogen (Ariel Kaplan) and Daniel are trapped in a well - will he make it to his wedding?

Guy Carpenter (Andrew Williams) returns to see his sister Lauren Turner's (Kate Kendall) daughter walk down the aisle

THE GUIDE

They're picking on us because we're All Stars,' says Dea Jolly, 43, of the rough time she and hubby Darren, 33, are having on The Block Triple Threat. The Melbourne parents knew their return would be met with some contention, but nowhere near the amount they've faced on the show, which reaches 1.2 million viewers a night. 'It's brutal, it's a joke,' says a frazzled Daz.

The work site erupts this week with what becomes known as 'winegate'. Dea and Daz are pulled up on their fully stocked cellar by producers, who say they're 'breaking the rules' because they didn't pay for the wine. Meanwhile, their competition are fuming. 'Dea, Daz, dodgy - there's the triple threat right there,' says Ayden.

But the Double Ds are keeping their eye on the prize. 'The disappointment of not getting a result on the last one is driving us,' explains Daz.

BACK ON TRACK

Daz, who is 'good now' after having a benign brain tumour removed, says his health didn't hinder the couple's build. 'I'm capable flying solo,' says Dea.

CHLOE & KELLY'S VERDICT

THE MKR 'BADDIES' TELL OK! HOW IT REALLY IS...

When we did MKR, it was strange to become suddenly famous, especially because in our case, we were 'infamous'. On that level, we can relate to other reality TV villains and how hard it is to have the spotlight on them - because the need to expose some controversial story increases twenty-fold. We've seen it on The Block with Dea and Daz. They've had to share Daz's private cancer story with the world so as to prevent it being picked up and run in a way they wouldn't see fit. Then there's Adam, the outspoken MKR contender [who reportedly declared bankruptcy last year and owes thousands to his ex for child support] - his 'story' seemingly won out when it came to whether or not it should be public fodder. Hello, did anyone consider his children?! But look, if you're going to go on a reality show, are known for being the mouthy-type and have some skeletons in the closet, STAY AWAY! Luckily we had a pretty good track record up until the show, so the only controversy with us was the fact that we cooked with store-bought pastry, some of which was smashed into our driveways by some generous (not!) haters. Thanks guys!

Poker becomes a flirty affair with Lydia and Shane involved!

SHANE HOOKS HIMSELF A HOUSEWIFE

LYDIA GETS COSY WITH THE CRICKET CAD

'You've got an advantage being [a] good-looking, attractive female,' says ladies' man Shane Warne, 45, to an eager Lydia Schiavello. But the Real Housewives of Melbourne stunner, 46, isn't hanging onto his every word for the reasons he might hope. Rather, she's taken him up on his offer to teach her how to play poker so she can host an evening in support of his foundation. Both are in fine flirty form during the lesson. 'You'll see the fluff, but hopefully you'll see the nuts,' Shane tells married Lydia - speaking in poker terms, of course!

MOVIES OF THE WEEK

FOCUS

STARS Will Smith, Margot Robbie, Rodrigo Santoro, Gerald McRaney

RATED MA15+ ★★☆☆

Margot Robbie goes toe-to-toe with Will Smith – and even outshines him at times – in this superb con artist film. Aspiring scam artist Jess (Margot) is thrilled when legendary crim Nicky (Will) agrees to take her under his wing. Jess certainly picks up some things from Nicky, but not what she had in mind. The movie plays a similar bait and switch with the audience, keeping you on your toes with a series of hustles and cons. Just when you think you know what's coming, you're caught by surprise.

SEVENTH SON

STARS Ben Barnes, Julianne Moore, Jeff Bridges RATED M ★★☆☆

Even Oscar-winners have their dud films and this cliché-ridden supernatural adventure boasts two: Julianne Moore and Jeff Bridges, without whom Seventh Son would probably be a lot worse than it already is. When evil sorceress Mother Malkin (Julianne Moore) breaks free of the prison that's confined her for years, the knight who put her there (Jeff Bridges) must train his new apprentice (Ben Barnes) to take her down.

TEXT BY GAVIN SCOTT

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

STARS Vince Vaughn, Dave Franco, Tom Wilkinson

RATED TBC ★★☆☆

Businessman Dan Trunkman (Vince Vaughn) and his two employees – including the improbably named Mike Pancake (Dave Franco) – head to Europe for a make-or-break deal. Hilarity – allegedly – ensues when everything that could go wrong does. Expect lowbrow sexual gags and lots of wacky antics when the three men get wasted trying to keep up with their European associates.

PISCES

FEB 20 - MAR 20

You have a drama-filled few days ahead of you, so try to leave any important conversations until things have settled down. Your message will be received in a much better way, leading to the result you're after. Keep your cool and focus on what you want.

This week's mantra:
I bide my time.

ARIES

MAR 21 - APR 20

Stay calm and focused and you'll end the week in a positive frame of mind. If confusion sets in, take some time out to reassess. New beginnings are about to embrace all areas of your life, so it's important to keep an open mind to opportunities as they arise.

This week's mantra:
Time to be open.

TAURUS

APR 21 - MAY 21

Take the time to understand other people's emotional motivations, and deal with any negativity before it chips away at your confidence. This is not the time for fence-sitting - you need to state your position and stick with it. Your candour will be rewarded in the long run.

This week's mantra:
Time to take a stance.

GEMINI

MAY 22 - JUN 21

Lucky Gems, you'll be inundated with offers and invitations this week, with some of them coming from overseas. It's great timing, as you've been looking to change things up. Meanwhile, a settling energy is making its way into your life - perfect time to take a breather.

This week's mantra:
Time to reassess.

CANCER

JUN 22 - JUL 23

This week will be all about putting your own needs first and standing your ground when faced with conflict. Keep a positive frame of mind when it comes to your finances. The more you have, the more you can do, so allocate some time to look into investment options.

This week's mantra:
It's all about attitude.

LEO

JUL 24 - AUG 23

If you're looking to kick some career goals, first you need to look at your image - presentation is key. You're in a new learning phase, so you also need to embrace change. Your response to new opportunities will determine the path you travel for the rest of the year.

This week's mantra:
I'm ready for the new.

VIRGO

AUG 24 - SEP 23

Home, family and children will be a big focus for you this week. Use this time to create a clear picture of what you want in all of these areas. Take action now and be sure to stand your ground over details that seem trivial to others - it will save you a lot of heartache in the long run.

This week's mantra:
Time to break free.

LIBRA

SEP 24 - OCT 23

Much can be gained from learning from past mistakes. Look back at any wrong moves made to get a better idea of what not to do in the future.

This insight will make you a much wiser individual, and ultimately lead to a happier, more successful future.

This week's mantra:
I take responsibility.

SCORPIO

OCT 24 - NOV 22

You have some important decisions to make in the coming weeks. But first you need to face your deepest fears and deal with past sorrows. Life can only move forward once you've resolved old issues, plus you'll find yourself in a much better place emotionally.

This week's mantra:
Time for change.

SAGITTARIUS

NOV 23 - DEC 21

If you're not happy with the status quo, there is always room for improvement. First, take responsibility for anything you've said or done that was out of line - pick up the phone or write an email and apologise. Clearing the negative energy will give you peace of mind.

This week's mantra:
Time for accountability.

CAPRICORN

DEC 22 - JAN 20

You control your own happiness. Don't leave life goals hanging in limbo; action them now! Express your wants and needs, especially regarding a close relationship.

This week will also prove interesting for your career, but there's no room for compromise - go after what you want.

This week's mantra:
I take the reins!

AQUARIUS

JAN 21 - FEB 19

Your task this week is to be more open. Some describe you as aloof, but they don't understand your level of sensitivity. Don't be hard on yourself - realising why they think this way and making small adjustments in your behaviour and actions will allow you to grow.

This week's mantra:
I let others in.

With love, you should go ahead and take the risk of getting hurt, because love is an amazing feeling,' declares Britney

Spears, 33, who isn't afraid to take the plunge while the rest of the world looks on.

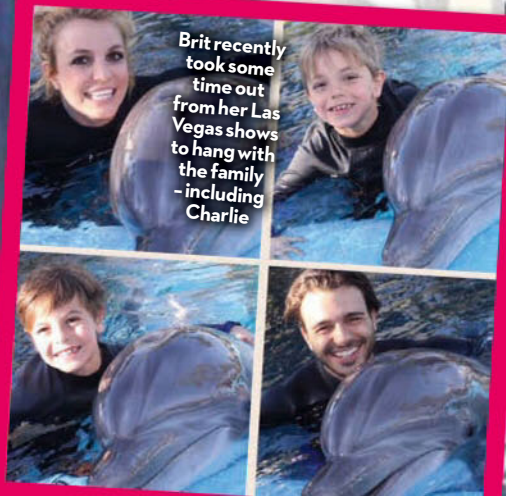

She dated back-up dancer Kevin Federline, 36, for three months, before they were engaged in July 2004 and wed in October. They had two sons together, Sean, nine, and Jayden, eight, but it was over two years later. Since then, Brit often tests out her new beaus with her sons, making sure they're a good father fit. 'I know right off the bat if I'm interested in someone,' she claims.

Brit's former agent, Jason Trawick, 43, made the cut, and proposed to the singer in December 2011. 'We have such a great time together!' she gushed at the time.

Sadly, the engagement was called off a year later and she moved on with David Lucado for 17 months, before a cheating scandal surfaced. 'The best part of breaking up is going on first dates,' Brit said after the split. And date she did - with current boyfriend Charlie Ebersol, 32.

Ready-made family holiday snaps are another rite of passage for any potential Mr Spears. 'The cool thing about being famous is travelling,' Brit smiles.

Brit recently took some time out from her Las Vegas shows to hang with the family - including Charlie

'My mum was singing to me, and through me to my daughter,' he says

KANYE WEST'S GODLY GAME

Awards night saboteur Kanye West has admitted that he's been working on a video game for the past six months. To tie in with his song, Only One - which was inspired by his mother, Donda, who tragically had a heart attack after having plastic surgery in 2007 - the game is all about her. 'The idea is it's my mother going through the gates of heaven,' the 37-year-old rapper explains. 'And you gotta bring her to the highest gates of heaven by holding her to the light.'

DAVID'S HAIR REGRETS

The former soccer star has had some dodgy hairstyles over the years. From his peroxided tips to a questionably shaggy mohawk, he's the first to admit he's made some mistakes. 'Some of them have been really bad - I hadn't thought them through,' Becks cringes.

TOOL OF THE WEEK

Chris Brown admits he wanted his ex Rihanna and girlfriend Karrueche Tran pregnant at the same time! 'That would have been my ultimate boom,' he says.

GAG OF THE WEEK

Engaged pair Ian Somerhalder and Nikki Reed claim they never fight except for one thing. 'He thinks his eyes are ocean blue and I think they're aqua,' Nikki tells. Pass the bucket!

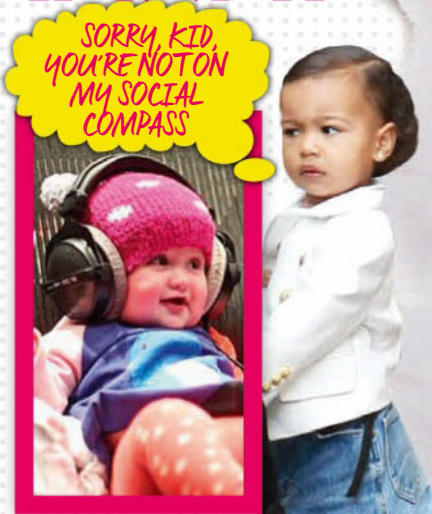

AUDIENCE OF THE WEEK

Will Smith and Margot Robbie have a heated sex scene in Focus, but Will's wife, Jada, doesn't mind! 'It's kind of a nice voyeuristic way to see your man.'

Kelly Clarkson BREAKAWAY

New mum Kelly Clarkson can't find anyone to tune her pipes with. 'I honestly would collaborate with a lot of people, but everyone usually says no,' Kelly admits. And after giving birth to baby daughter River nine months ago, Kelly was asked by a UK radio show if her bub might have a playdate with North West. 'I don't think my kid would be talented enough to hang out with Kanye's kids,' Kelly laughs.

THE NEED TO PEE!

These celebs share their unbe-wee-vable stories!

THE BIG O 'I have Oprah and she really has to pee... can she use your bathroom?' filmmaker Ava DuVernay asked an office worker en route to their destination.

BEASTLY ANTICS While starring in Beauty and the Beast in the '90s, Hugh Jackman recalls, 'I thought, "If I sing this note I'm peeing my pants but if I don't I'm going to be humiliated..."' I was singing AND peeing my pants!'

GOING FOR A SONG Needing to pee while shopping, DJ Zedd's pal suggested he use the bathroom at his studio - where he met his now-girlfriend Selena Gomez. 'All because I had to pee,' he says.

BIG GIRL PANTS

Kim Kardashian has a soft spot for shapewear undies. Or should that be wet spot? 'I always pee all over my Spanx,' she says. 'It's a disaster, they aren't crotchless enough.'

A-LIST PARTY

CONFESSIONS

Geoff Sewell (left) has been to some of the most epic parties in Tinseltown. 'We saw things we probably shouldn't have seen,'

he laughs. Geoff runs Incognito Artists, a team of performers who pose as waiters and chefs before bursting into song when their guests least expect it. And the stars can't get enough. 'Prince William was at a Richard Branson party,' Geoff admits. 'The Prince didn't have any bodyguards, it was like when we were younger and hanging around with our mates getting drunk!' At a separate soiree, Prince Charles was so enamoured by the singer he told him he played a pirate in The Pirates of Penzance, and Elle Macpherson told him how amazing Incognito were while her boyfriend was off hitting on someone else. At a private party at Victoria and David Beckham's mansion, Posh Spice complimented one of the female members. 'She said, "I wish I had a voice like you, because I can't sing,"' Geoff chuckles. But it's not all Moët and caviar - Geoff has seen some sad and lonely celebs. Including Ronan Keating wandering around drunk and miserable and Hugh Grant picking up a bunch of women even though his girlfriend was right there.

Kylie's $3.4M TEEN CRIB!

Looks like all the kash kows are fleeing Kris Jenner's family home! Youngest daughter Kylie is moving out after dropping a massive $3.48 million on a new mega mansion. 'She has her own vision of how she wants her home to look,' matriarch Kris, 59, says of the purchase. 'She is really excited!'

Kylie's new house is located in The Oaks neighbourhood of Calabasas, just a stone's throw away from big sisters Khloé and Kourtney. The teen's pad has five bedrooms, a home theatre, chef-style kitchen, pool and an outdoor 'grilling station'. Not bad for a 17-year-old!

GUESS WHO?

This performer is notorious for having a long list of A-list friends. But it seems not all of the singer's perfectly formed besties get along with each other. Especially the models.

At last week's BRIT Awards, there was one friend (let's call her Model A) who took a particular dislike to another (Model B). Whenever Model B moved out of earshot, Model A would turn to her performer pal and take subtle swipes at her. Nothing too slanderous was said, just lots of little jabs like, 'Doesn't it look like [Model A's] measurements have changed since last year? I don't know why [famous designer] signed her. She doesn't really fit their brand.'

Model A also commented on Model B's moral compass. 'I wouldn't leave my bag unattended around her if I were you.'

Can you guess who these three famous faces might be?

“It looks like a continental sausage.”
